Dear Friends in Christ,

Grace and Peace to you from our Savior Jesus Christ. Blessings as your congregation embarks on a journey of hope, trust, and wonder as the Holy Spirit will lead and guide you to issue a call for your next pastor or deacon. For communities of faith, transitions are meant to be a time for God’s transformational work.

As your congregation begins this journey of transformation, I want to assure you that the Sierra Pacific Synod Office of the Bishop is here to accompany you along the way. Congregational transitions are significant in the life of the whole church. Entering the transition process intentionally and thoughtfully allows the Holy Spirit to move and breathe new life into the ministry of your congregation.

Congregations that have been served by a pastoral leader who has resigned, retired or accepted another call have sometimes been referred to as having a “vacancy.” While you may be experiencing a pastoral vacancy, you are NOT experiencing a ministry vacancy. A congregation in transition is a congregation that has been given an opportunity to explore and celebrate its past and to discern a new vision for its future. You will be blessed with lay leaders and an intentional interim pastor to use this time wisely in the hope of transforming its ministry for a new season of representing Christ to the community it has been called to serve.

This Congregations in Transition book is offered to provide resources and help you move through the necessary steps for both the intentional interim and call process. May God’s Holy Spirit inspire and bless and guide you during this journey of transformation.

Peace,

The Rev. Mark W. Holmerud, bishop

The Transition and Call Process in the Sierra Pacific Synod

Congregations in transition are in a partnership with the Office of the Bishop, supporting one another and holding one another accountable to be who God is creating each to be: the Body of Christ. In the midst of a transition, the Office of the Bishop and the congregation work closely toward the goal of finding the right pastor for the next phase of the congregation’s life.

Prayer: Loving God, be with us and guide us during this time of discernment. Fill our leaders with your wisdom. Keep us mindful of the work you would have us do. Lead us and guide us, O God, to be about the work of establishing your reign here on earth as the search for a new pastor continues. Bless all who have taken on extra responsibilities, and fill them with a sense of your love and presence. We pray in the name of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Office of the Bishop recommends that every congregation take advantage of the critical opportunity for renewal that is presented during a time of pastoral transition. This “in-between time” offers congregations a rare opportunity to reflect on ministry and the future of the congregation in unique ways. Entering the transition process intentionally and thoughtfully allows the Holy Spirit to move and breathe new life into the ministry of a congregation. A successful interim process not only prepares the way for the next chapter in a congregation’s history, it also allows individuals and the community to practice healthy leave-taking, heal old wounds, and imagine creative ministry that can bless the wider community for future generations.

Led by the intentional interim pastor and the congregational council, everyday ministry continues during the transition process: weekly worship, educational opportunities, outreach to the community, and care of members. During this in-between time, the leadership of the congregation will find engaging ways to guide the faith community through a self-study that will embrace the past, name the present, and prayerfully discern God’s call into the future. To do this, the whole community will need to communicate well and often so that everyone stays committed to moving forward in this process.
Glossary of Terms

Call Committee
The committee is appointed or elected according to the congregation’s constitution for the purpose of searching for the next pastor to be called by the congregation. This committee first completes the Ministry Site Profile (MSP) based on the self-study of the congregation. The committee is then charged with interviewing candidates for a pastor to lead the congregation into the future. Candidates are first vetted by the Office of the Bishop and then given to the congregation until a suitable candidate is called.

Call Packet
Once the call committee has selected and presented a candidate to the congregational council, they will notify the Office of the Bishop, which then sends a call packet to the president of the congregation. This packet will include information and forms on compensation and benefits as well as a sample Letter of Call.

Compensation Package
The Compensation Package reflects the actual financial impact on the congregation's budget of supporting the leader who has been called by the congregation. This includes salary, housing allowance, pension and health benefits, car allowance, continuing education and professional expenses, Social Security assistance, et al. It is helpful for candidates to have clarity as to what is actually available for them to cover living expenses, as well as the benefits that the would not receive directly, such as pension and health benefits.

Letter of Call
The Letter of Call is the official document, signed by the Bishop of the Sierra Pacific Synod and the congregational officers, authorizing a pastor to serve in Word and Sacrament ministry at a particular congregation or specialized ministry setting.

Ministry Site Profile (MSP)
The Ministry Site Profile is a document compiled by the call committee which reflects congregational history, current structures and staffing patterns, hopes for the future, mission direction, demographic data about the community, and the gifts for leadership being sought by the congregation.

Office of the Bishop
The Office of the Bishop and its staff supports the work of the Bishop of the Sierra Pacific Synod. See page 1 for contact information.

Rostered Minister
A person who is on one of the two Rosters of the ELCA: Ministers of Word and Sacrament (Pastors), or Ministers of Word and Service (Deacons). These people have completed theological training and a process with the ELCA Candidacy process.
Rostered Leader Profile (RLP)
The Rostered Leader Profile is a form completed by rostered candidates. It includes questions about theology, gifts for ministry, personal information, employment and educational history and references.

Called Pastor (also referred to as “Placed” or “Settled” Pastor)
This is the pastor selected by the Call Committee, recommended by the Congregational Council, and voted on by the congregation to be the newly installed pastor of the congregation.

Synod Representative
Every call process is a partnership among the congregation, the Office of the Bishop, and the whole Sierra Pacific Synod. In order to live into this partnership, a representative from the Synod will be present at every congregational vote. The representative will report back to the Office of the Bishop the results of the congregational vote.

Transitional Pastoral Leadership
- Intentional Interim Pastor: A pastor who has specific training to guide congregations through the transition process due to a pastoral vacancy. They may be called through the Sierra Pacific Synod.

- Supply Pastor: A pastor who is contracted on a short-term basis to provide Word and Sacrament ministry (i.e. preaching and worship leadership) and provide pastoral care prior to the arrival of an intentional interim pastor.

- Redevelopment Pastor: A pastor who is specially trained with a specific set of skills to work with a specific congregation whose direction in mission and focus have changed due to a changing neighborhood or declining membership. This pastor will be placed with the assistance of the Director for Evangelical Mission.

“Basically, we’re looking for an innovative pastor with a fresh vision who will inspire our church to remain exactly the same.”

Overview of Steps in the Transition and Call Process

Phase I – Our Pastor is leaving. What do we do?

- When a rostered leader resigns, they submit a letter of resignation to the Congregational Council at a council meeting.
- The letter of resignation is copied and distributed to the Office of the Bishop and to the congregation, along with a letter from the council accepting the resignation and detailing any plans being made for a farewell event (if known).
- The President of the Congregational Council contacts the Office of the Bishop to begin a closer relationship during the transition process.
- The pastor and council complete any obligations to one another (i.e. updating parochial records, completing any financial obligations between pastor and the congregation, etc.).
- The council clarifies the new relationship and expectations of the departing Pastor, complete the Letter of Agreement, and notify the congregation.
- An exit interview is scheduled between the pastor and the Church Council.
- The congregation holds a farewell event for the pastor.

Phase II – Intentional Interim and Self-Study

- Each member of the Congregation Council completes an Interim Ministry Assessment Form and submits it to the Office of the Bishop.
- The Office of the Bishop will recommend an intentional interim pastor to the Congregational Council.
- The Congregational Council interviews and offers a contract to the intentional interim pastor.
- The intentional interim pastor begins her or his ministry.
- The Call Committee or a “Transition Team” can be selected to lead the congregation through the transition and self-study process.
- If a Transition Team completes Parts 1 and 2 of the Ministry Site Profile (MSP) and submits it to the Congregational Council, a call committee is then selected/appointed.
Phase III – The Call Process

- The Call Committee is established according to the congregation's constitution. Please refrain from establishing the call committee prior to the arrival of the intentional interim pastor.
- A representative from the Office of Bishop meets with the Call Committee.
- The Call Committee develops the completed Ministry Site Profile, then sends it to the Office of the Bishop. A representative of the Office of the Bishop will review the MSP with the call committee before it is finalized.
- The Office of the Bishop enters into a time of intentional prayer and discernment to identify potential candidates to offer the Call Committee for interviews.
- The Call Committee receives the names of candidates. The Call Committee interviews candidates – remaining in contact with the Office of the Bishop – and ultimately recommends a candidate to the Congregation.
- The council votes to recommend a compensation package to the congregation. They set a congregational meeting date. The compensation package is sent to the Office of the Bishop for review. The Office of the Bishop will send a representative for the congregational vote.
- The congregation votes on whether to extend a call to the pastor (requiring a two-thirds majority). If approved, the congregation votes on a second ballot on the compensation package (requiring a simple majority).
- The candidate receives the call and, if they accept, notifies the congregation and the Office of the Bishop of their desired start date.
- The new pastor is installed by the Conference Dean at an agreed-upon time.

PHASE I

Our pastor is leaving. What do we do?
Phase I: Our pastor is leaving. What do we do?

1: Concluding the Partnership with your Pastor

There are many reasons for a pastor to leave a congregation: retirement, another call, or personal reasons. No matter the reason, there will be a period of adjustment for the congregation. Some members of the congregation might feel sad, abandoned, or betrayed, while others might feel relief or even joy at a pastor’s departure. From all places on the emotional spectrum, there will be some who want to move ahead quickly, often ignoring the emotional work that is critical in transition time. Congregation members must be allowed to process their feelings in order to prepare for the next pastor. Processing emotions takes time and should not be minimized. Transitions are an opportunity to develop new ways of being that offer revitalization. Saying good-bye well can pave the way for a healthy new relationship later on.

Congregations are not alone during these times of transition. The Office of the Bishop is always in partnership with congregations and pastors, and will walk even more closely with congregations during pastoral transitions. As one pastor is leaving and the congregation prepares to welcome a new pastor into the future ministry, the Office of the Bishop offers specific and constitutionally-mandated recommendations for congregations. The relationship among the Office of the Bishop, the congregation, and the pastor is a partnership where each one holds the other accountable to be who God is creating us to be: the body of Christ.

2: Consultation with the Office of the Bishop

A. The current outgoing pastor indicates to the Bishop and to the congregational council that s/he will be leaving. (If the pastor is going to “On Leave from Call” status, they must send a formal written letter to the Synod Council.)

B. The council president contacts the Office of the Bishop of the Sierra Pacific Synod to begin the transition process and sets up a meeting with the Congregational Council. A representative of the Office of the Bishop visits with the Council to answer questions, to get to know the particular needs of the congregation, and to begin to build a stronger partnership with the congregation.

C. The council president schedules an exit Interview with the Church Council and exiting pastor.

3: Congregation Council Accepts the Pastor’s Letter of Resignation

A. When a pastor resigns, the congregational council shall receive the letter of resignation at a called meeting of the council. The date of departure should also be reflected in the minutes of the congregational council. The Pastor then notifies the congregation by means of a letter to all of the membership.
B. The congregational council or president shall communicate with all members of the congregation regarding the pastor's resignation. The announcement should be made orally and in writing. An appropriate action would be a letter to all the members of the congregation, which includes:

1. Notice that the congregational council has accepted the pastor's letter of resignation;
2. The last date the pastor will serve the congregation and any plans for a farewell event;
3. Expressions of gratitude to the pastor and his or her family;

C. The council president schedules an exit interview with the departing pastor. The exit interview will usually be with the exiting pastor and church council or executive committee. An exit interview (Appendix 2) is an intentional conversation whose purposes are:

- To evaluate the ministry;
- To identify areas of potential growth for the pastor and the congregation;
- To celebrate the ministry;
- To articulate appropriate boundaries and establish a covenant of behavior between the pastor and the congregation for the future health and well-being of the congregation (Appendix 3).

4: Complete All Obligations

- Portico Benefits: The president and treasurer ensure that an End of Call form is completed in order to cease billing from Portico. The document can be found at www.porticobenefits.org. The congregation is responsible for the pension and benefits until this document is completed. The exiting pastor must complete a Change of Call form to inform Portico where to mail upcoming invoices.

- Parsonage: If there is a parsonage, consider scheduling a walk-through with the current pastor to plan for the resolution of any issues identified in the walk-through.

- Future correspondence: Obtain a forwarding address, phone number, and e-mail address to forward any mail that the pastor may receive and to mail anything that is not completed by the time of departure. It is helpful if this information is communicated to the Office of the Bishop as well.

- Receive the Parochial Reports and financial records: Upon the pastor’s departure, the secretary of the congregation council will meet with the departing pastor to review and receive parochial reports and financial records. The parochial reports of each congregation should be kept in a separate book and will remain the property of the congregation. The secretary addresses and completes the Certificate of Church Records and Certification and Completion of Financial Records (Appendix 5, Appendix 6).
• Settle financial accounts with the departing Pastor: A congregation under financial obligation to its former pastor must make satisfactory settlement of the obligation before calling another pastor. Such financial obligations may include loans on housing, grants, vacation pay, etc.

In the same manner, any financial obligations of the pastor to the congregation must also be satisfied.

5: Saying Farewell to Your Pastor

Because a resignation signals the end of an important covenantal relationship, it is common for congregation members to experience feelings of grief, sadness, anger, anxiety, etc. In order to help the congregation move through this experience, the council should arrange a farewell event (or events) for the exiting pastor and his or her family. You may consider using a Service of Thanksgiving and Farewell in the final worship service (Appendix 7).

The congregation council should plan appropriate expressions of appreciation for the resigning pastor and his or her family. This may take several forms, such as:

- A service and/or reception which may include invitations to conference pastors, pastoral colleagues, synod staff, and community leaders
- A seated dinner or an informal potluck dinner
- A farewell gift

A special committee may be appointed to plan the event(s) and coordinate all congregational expressions of appreciation.

6: Planning for Transition

While the congregation is preparing for the final weeks of the current pastor's call, the congregational council works with the Office of the Bishop to plan for the transition process. The first question to consider is the viability of the congregation. All leadership should ask themselves whether this congregation has the financial and human resources to continue in full time ministry. If a congregation's viability is in doubt, significant conversation should take place between the Office of the Bishop and the congregational leadership.

If there are major outstanding debts or financial obligations, the holder of that debt may also need to be included in deciding an appropriate plan to move forward. The standard in the Sierra Pacific Synod is that congregations will contract with an Intentional Interim Pastor. In consultation with the Office of the Bishop, in certain circumstances, it may be determined that an Intentional Interim Pastor is not feasible. In those cases, other options will be discussed.
Things to remember

Every context is different

If the intentional interim process is appropriate for the congregation, the Office of the Bishop will provide a potential candidate to the congregational council. The council then interviews the candidate and determines the best match. The council negotiates a time frame and compensation package with the interim pastor. In most intentional interim situations, the congregation contracts with the pastor.

It is the practice of the Sierra Pacific Synod that Intentional Interim Pastors are compensated according to the latest edition of the Synod’s Compensation and Guidelines. (Compensation Guidelines at www.spselca.org).

While waiting for an interim pastor, the council can invite a supply pastor to conduct worship and provide pastoral care (a list of supply pastors is available through your conference dean).

Because this time is so crucial in the life of the congregation, a long-term supply pastor is only a viable option when the future of the congregation is uncertain, or under other special circumstances.

See Appendix 8: Preparing for the Interim Time

Everyone needs to know his or her role

- Remember, God is in charge!
- Office of the Bishop: Responsible for holding you in prayer throughout the whole transition process, articulating the purpose of the intentional interim process, providing resources as needed to assist you and providing appropriate and qualified candidates to the call committee.
- Interim Pastor: Responsible for leading the ongoing ministry of the congregation, providing pastoral care, leading worship and administering the sacraments, and assisting in the transition process.
- Congregational Leadership: Responsible for supporting and leading the congregation in its ongoing ministry and providing prayerful support and encouragement to the call committee.
- Congregation: Responsible for supporting its ongoing ministries: baptisms, worship, faith formation, service, sacraments, stewardship, and relationship with the wider church. Also responsible for holding the call committee in prayer.
- Outgoing Pastor: Responsible for maintaining professional distance from the congregation once they have departed by not contacting the congregation or its members and not getting involved in their work and ministry.
- Future Pastor: Responsible for prayerfully discerning God’s call.
Theological Context for Transitional Ministry

A congregation in transition is shaped by the uniqueness of its individual context. Yet the Word of God transcends every context, moving and bringing forth what the congregation may need.

Transitional ministry - whether through a supply pastor, an intentional interim, or a long-term supply - finds its theological grounding within the Holy Scriptures. Consider the transitional ministries of some of the Bible’s greatest leaders who encountered change in their context: Moses, Abraham and Sarah, and Deborah in the book of Judges. And that’s just in the Hebrew Scriptures. We can turn to the New Testament and find even more biblical and theological grounding for transitional ministry. After all, isn’t transitional ministry all about transformation? The Apostle Paul was transformed and became a transformational leader. There was John the Baptist, and, of course, Jesus. From death to resurrection, Scripture points us to change and transformation.

History tells us that every congregation and every ministry is limited by time and scope.

For Moses, part of his life and ministry were spent wandering in the wilderness. Congregations in transition enter this wilderness experience immediately upon learning that there is going to be a pastoral shift in their leadership.

Margaret Morris and Joan Mabon, pioneering intentional interim pastors and trainers, have written in the Interim Ministry Network newsletter, The In-Between Times:

“Perhaps more than any other, the biblical motif ‘wilderness’ emerges most strongly as the metaphor for a congregation between installed pastors. ‘Wilderness’ is that place of sudden freedom, uncertain leadership, changed relationships, possible deprivation—temptations, hopes and disappointments. That place where all old fears reappear most threateningly… but where all the hopeful futures take on new promise. ‘Wilderness’ becomes a paradigm for the interim [transition] time.”

As far as biblical precedent goes, John the Baptist just might be considered the first ever transitional pastor. He is definitely the model for intentional interim pastors. All transitional pastors strive to be the voice in the midst of the wilderness for any congregation in transition.

John the Baptist prepared the way for Jesus. The transitional pastor prepares the way (i.e., the congregation) for the coming of the new called pastor, or another new direction the congregation will decide to take. John prepared the way for the new day, and transitional pastors do the same thing.

Intentional interim pastors work specifically within the congregational context, lifting a mirror to reflect to the congregation the culture within its own walls. The transition time led by the transitional pastor is one where the congregation does the work, preparing themselves to receive the newly-called pastor.

A transitional pastor, no matter what kind, works to work himself or herself out of a job. In John 3:30, John the Baptist points to the one who was called by God to take up ministry among the people: “He must increase, but I must decrease.”

John the Baptist passed his ministry on to Jesus. Jesus, in turn, traveled throughout the countryside and into the villages and cities, constantly preparing his disciples to succeed him. The work of any congregation flows from the presence and power of the Holy Spirit, in, with, and through the will of God. Hence, transitional ministry in a congregation centers, first and foremost, on God.
PHASE II

Intentional Interim and Self Study
Phase II: Intentional Interim and Self-Study

1: Intentional Interim Begins

Litany for Beginning of Interim Ministry (Appendix 10)

2: Self-Study: Encountering God in our Midst

A. The Purpose of the Transition Time

The purpose of the transition time is to mobilize discovery and generate the capacity to thrive anew. The two major goals are 1) to discover a new and deepened sense of identity and purpose for the congregation and 2) to establish a healthy relationship with the next pastoral leader who will walk with the congregation toward the renewed sense of purpose.

The Call Committee allows the Congregational Council to focus on continuing to support the ministries of the congregation and the regular business of the church. Other purposes of the transition time are:

- To help congregational members grieve after the loss of their pastor and to gain perspective on the chapter of congregational life that has now ended.
- To gather the feelings and ideas of both members of the congregation and people living in the surrounding community about their church.
- To provide a forum for sharing and focusing hopes and aspirations for the future.
- To help the congregation move from a preoccupation with the past to a state of readiness for a new chapter in its life under the leadership of a new pastor.
- To involve the congregation in accomplishing the developmental tasks of the intentional interim period.

The members of the Call Committee commit to the unique opportunity presented in the transition time. It is a time of high challenge for any congregation, a time for self-assessment, and a time for visioning and recommitment to mission and ministry. The overall goal is to bring the congregation into a state of readiness to move forward under the leadership of a new pastor.

B. Forming a Call Committee

The Holy Spirit is on the move in a congregation in transition. Four to eight weeks following the arrival of the intentional interim pastor, it is recommended that a Call Committee be created. This committee will be responsible for research, analysis, documentation, and study. The Call Committee will be appointed by the Congregational Council or the Congregation (depending on what your Constitution and Bylaws call for). The intentional interim pastor will help guide you through this process using a variety of tools. The five to seven individuals on the Call Committee work closely with the intentional interim pastor to plan and guide a process that invites the whole congregation into a time of self-reflection, preparing the congregation for a new future with a new called pastor. See Section III for more information on the work of the Call Committee.
In his book Dry Bones Breathe (1978), Robert Worley writes: “Members activate themselves. Leaders cannot activate others. They can model behaviors appropriate for church members to lead charismatically.” How does this apply to the call committee? A call committee must:

- Value each team member’s contributions and take suggestions and ideas seriously.
- Listen.
- Become acquainted with resources for gathering and evaluating information.
- Hold and honor confidentiality.
- Foster the trust of the church membership.
- Gather the information needed to create a congregational vision, establish goals, and define activities for the future ministry of the church.
- Collate and interpret information gathered from the congregation and its life and vision of the future.

C. The Work of the Transition Time: The Five Focus Areas

The Intentional Interim will work with the congregation to focus on five central focus areas:

Heritage: Reviewing how the congregation has been shaped and formed

Leadership: Reviewing the membership needs and its ways of organizing and developing new and effective leadership

Mission: Defining and redefining sense of purpose and direction

Connections: Discovering all the relationships a faith community builds outside of itself

Future: Developing congregational and pastoral profiles

Also, the congregation asks:

- Who Are We?
- Who Are Our Neighbors?
- What Is God Calling Us To Do?

D. The Work of the Transition Time: Other Tasks

Church Leadership will also attend to the following details, with the help of the Intentional Interim Pastor:

- Update the current congregational constitution
- Study the congregation and the surrounding community
- Establish and/or affirm core values
- Develop and/or affirm mission statement
- Affirm vision statement
- Review staffing needs and concerns and update job descriptions
- Review policies and procedures
- Assess the congregation’s financial reality
- Assess the congregation’s stewardship of resources
- Assess the congregation’s structural and property issues
E. Helpful Documents for the work of the Call Committee
   • Review of the Congregation's History (Appendix 11)
   • Review of the Congregation Constitution and Policies (Appendix 12)
   • Development/Review of Core Values, Mission Statement and Vision Statement (Appendix 13)
   • A Review of Staffing Needs and Resources (Appendix 14)
   • Intentional Stewardship (Appendix 15)
   • Stewardship of Property Inventory (Appendix 16)

3: Report from the Transition Time

After the congregation has spent time in self-study, collecting data, and working with the interim Pastor to tighten up the infrastructure of the congregation, the Call Committee will use this information as it works to complete the Ministry Site Profile (MSP).
PHASE III
The Call Process
Phase III: The Call Process

1: Time of Intentional Prayer and Discernment

During the entire transition time, the Office of the Bishop holds the congregation and its leadership in prayer. Because transitions are such critical opportunities healthy and vital growth, everyone needs to be open to where the Holy Spirit might be leading the community of faith. As soon as a transition is identified, prayer and discernment begin around possible future leadership.

2: Establishing a Call Committee

A. Purpose of a Call Committee
   The purpose of the call committee is to identify the candidate who is best suited to lead the congregation into God's future. The work of the committee must be done prayerfully, and the people on the committee must be open to the movement of the Holy Spirit. The call committee is not looking for the “best and brightest” candidate; rather, they are looking for the “right” candidate for this particular congregation.

B. Make-up of the Call Committee
   The council should begin by reviewing the congregation’s constitution to determine the structure and make-up of the call committee and the process by which its members will be selected.

   Sometimes, members of a call committee come with a predetermined mindset about the next pastor. It is important for the committee as a whole to understand that each individual has his or her own bias, and to challenge each member to see beyond his or her own wants toward the greater good. Encourage people to open their hearts to the Holy Spirit moving within the call committee for the sake of the congregation’s mission and vision. (Please see Selecting a Call Committee, Appendix 17).

   The number of people on the committee can vary, but no more than 5 to 7 people is generally a good size, depending on the size of the congregation. The committee should reflect the diversity of the congregation. Pay attention to age, gender, length of time as a member, levels of involvement, and attendance at worship. The number of council members on the committee should be limited. If not indicated by the constitution, the committee selects its own chairperson. The Congregational Council should share the name of the committee chair and its members with the Office of the Bishop (see Call Committee Member Form, Appendix 17a).

C. Contact the Office of the Bishop
   Once the call committee is formed, contact the Office of the Bishop in order for a representative of the Office of the Bishop to meet with your committee and perhaps the congregational council to discuss the call process.
D. Announcement of Call Committee Members
The names of the call committee members should be made public via your newsletter and bulletin. It is also appropriate to post pictures of the committee with the contact information in visible locations, and to request prayers and support for the call committee.

E. Installation of Call Committee
The work of the call committee is critical to the health and future well-being of the congregation. Installing the members to the call committee in a worship service and publically blessing their work is encouraged. Ask the congregation to pray for the people who will serve in this ministry (see Installation of Call Committee, Appendix 18).

F. Expenses of the Call Committee
Authorized expenses of the call committee should be paid for by the congregation. These may include:
- Opportunities for community building
- Administrative costs
- Hospitality during the interviewing of candidates
- Travel expenses as needed

G. Getting Started with the Call Committee
One of the benefits and responsibilities of the committee is to build relationships with each other. Take time to learn what gifts and skills each member brings to the work of calling a pastor. Because of the cross-section of people on the committee, it is likely that each will learn something about the other and his or her ministry. If the transition team has provided a report to the call committee, it is imperative that the call committee digest and take seriously the recommendations and observations of the transition team.

H. Meetings
Frequency of meeting depends on how the committee plans to complete the Ministry Site Profile and the variables of the process. Meeting once every two weeks is a good baseline to consider, though some committees meet every week. Set an appropriate time frame to prevent frustration and unnecessary delays.

Each meeting should begin with devotions and prayer (see some options for these under Prayers and Devotions for Call Committee, Appendix 19). Devotions should be intentional, not rushed. Inviting God into the conversation and opening one’s ears to hear God’s invitation are vital components to this process.
When considering the calling of a new pastor, the congregation should know its challenges and opportunities for mission and ministry so that the gifts of the pastor meet the needs of the congregation. The work of the transition team during the interim time is critical to this process (cf. Phase II, Part 3). The Ministry Site Profile (MSP) provides the opportunity for the call committee to articulate an accurate picture of the congregation. It is important that the profile be a thorough and honest reflection of the community, the congregation, and the congregation's mission.

The MSP can be accessed online at www.elca.org/call-process. Gathering information to include in the MSP must be the work of the whole congregation, but the call committee is advised to choose one person to input data into the document to maintain consistency of voice. As the call committee completes this document, it is important for committee members to be in consultation with the transition team, congregation council, strategic planning team, and/or other lay leaders. Be sure to save your work frequently! It is recommended that the person who completes this document use the “Save As” button on the last page of the document to keep a remote copy on his or her personal computer for updating as needed. (For more information, please see Appendix 21 Guide to the MSP).

After all sections are complete, the MSP should be shared with the Congregation Council and the congregation at large to make certain there is agreement on the congregation’s mission and the gifts needed in a new rostered leader. Once the MSP has been uploaded to the ELCA’s Call Portal, a synod staff person will review the profile and contact the call committee for conversation and review before the profile is activated. The congregation secretary should download and print a final copy of the profile for congregational record-keeping. Once the MSP is officially submitted electronically, the ELCA Churchwide Office will inform the synodical Office of the Bishop that the MSP is ready to be shared with potential candidates to interview.

4: Overview of the Interview Process

A. Basic Process Outline
   All candidates being invited into the Sierra Pacific Synod will be vetted and cleared by the Synod Bishop, including any name raised from within the congregation from personal contacts. Once the Ministry Site Profile has been officially submitted, the Office of the Bishop will take 4-6 weeks to gather and find the best candidates for your congregation. Below is an outline of appropriate protocol to follow once these names have been officially offered to the call committee:

1. The chairperson, or designee, will contact each candidate within a week of receiving the names to let them know that their Rostered Leader Profile has been received. This call is the first step in getting to know the candidate.
2. The committee will have an initial interview (usually by Skype) with each candidate. This initial interview usually lasts an hour or more.
3. After the initial interview, the committee can release any candidate who does not seem like an appropriate fit for the congregation. Once released, the candidate may not be reconsidered.
4. The committee can invite any appropriate candidate(s) for a additional Skype interview or a face-to-face meeting to engage in further conversation and discernment.

   Some ideas for this time together might include:
   - Tour of the broader community
   - Sharing a meal
   - Tour of ministry site
   - Speaking with a realtor about potential housing opportunities

B. Confidentiality
   For the integrity of the process and out of respect for the candidate, it is critical that everyone involved must agree to maintain and respect confidentiality during the interview process. Prematurely divulging information about the consideration of a candidate may jeopardize the ministry of a pastor or sowing division within a congregation. Conversations during the call process should remain confidential to the official meetings of the call committee. Committee meetings (and interviews) are not open to those who are not on the call committee.

C. Communication by the Call Committee to the Congregation
   Names of candidates must remain confidential, but the call committee should otherwise regularly communicate to the congregation in general terms about its progress in the call process. The congregation should be made aware of the committee's hard work, and the committee should likewise ask for the prayers of the entire congregation during the call process.
D. Preparing to Interview Candidates

Before the interviewing begins, the call committee needs to meet, perhaps several times, to study carefully the oral and written information about each candidate given by the Office of the Bishop. It is the expectation that the call committee will interview all of the candidates provided to them. The Office of the Bishop has initially vetted each candidate and shared their information after prayer, discernment, and conversation. The call committee is encouraged to review its commitment to trust each other, share openly and maintain confidentiality at this time. Whenever the call committee chooses to no longer consider a candidate, all materials related to that candidate should be shredded.

Information packets should be prepared and sent to each candidate prior to his or her interview. Suggested items to include in the packet are: a recent annual report, worship bulletins, newsletters, a listing of staff, a list of congregation council members and call committee members, a picture of the call committee, and the congregation's constitution and mission statement. If you have a local Chamber of Commerce, you may ask it to provide an introductory packet of information about the community to include in this mailing.

Written communication verifying the agenda and length of the interviewing process should be sent prior to the meeting. If the candidate has a spouse, the call committee needs to be clear about whether the spouse is invited to accompany the pastor to visit the congregation and community. It is generally highly recommended that the spouse be invited to come along. However, the spouse does not typically participate in the interview. Because the decision to accept a call impacts the entire family, it is important that the spouse be able to see the church and parsonage (if there is one) and have a chance to ask any questions s/he might have. The advance communication should contain travel instructions to reach the interview site and indicate the commitment of the congregation to provide reimbursement for all expenses. If a spouse is invited to accompany the candidate, the committee should indicate whether or not they will also cover all expenses for the spouse. A prompt reimbursement of the candidate for expenses incurred should follow the interview.

E. Hearing Candidates Preach

If desired, call committee members may travel to a candidate's current congregation to hear him or her preach. They should, however, request permission from the pastor ahead of time. Please ensure that this visit is kept confidential so that people in the pastor's congregation do not recognize you as a call committee! If such a visit is not possible, the call committee may ask for audio and/or video recordings of the pastor's preaching. They may also arrange for the pastor to preach at another congregation in the vicinity (not at their own) so that committee members may hear him or her preach there. Please contact the Office of the Bishop to help make these arrangements.
5: The Interview Process

A. Initial Phone/Skype Interview

The initial phone or Skype interview is a brief opportunity for candidates and committee members to get to know one another. The committee should pick 4 to 5 questions to ask each candidate. Remember, consistency in questions between multiple candidates will be helpful. The main goal of this conversation is to make introductions and get a general feeling for each candidate. The interview should occur with equipment that allows all members of the call committee to be visible and to interact with the candidate. Examples of questions for this initial interview include:

- Tell us about yourself and your life of faith.
- Why are you an ELCA pastor?
- Tell us about what gives you life in parish ministry.
- Who have been the most influential people in your life?
- What excites you about our congregation?
- What would you like to know about us?

Try to come up with questions which will help you determine which candidates you want to invite for face-to-face interviews and which you want to release. It is good to invite as many strong, viable candidates as you can for a face-to-face interview, although cost may prohibit the committee from inviting more than one or two.

B. Preparing for the Face-to-Face Interview

The Ministry Site Profile, together with the other items you have previously mailed to the candidate, will give the candidate an initial impression of the congregation.

When the plan is to interview more than one candidate, an attempt is made to conduct each interview in the same setting and manner. For example, if the call committee meets with one candidate in a restaurant, the same pattern should be followed with any subsequent candidates. The call committee should be consistent in having the same person lead the interview each time and plan for committee members to ask the same basic questions of each candidate. This will ensure that all the bases are covered in each instance once the interview process begins.

The leadership needs which have been identified on the Ministry Site Profile should be used to form an outline for the interview. The committee will create approximately eight to ten detailed questions based on this outline. The committee should also be flexible and understand that a give-and-take conversation will not necessarily allow you to ask the questions in predictable order. (See Appendices 22 & 23 for sample questions for an interview.)
A crucial aspect of interviewing is the art of listening. To be a good listener, several elements are important:

- INTEREST: The person being interviewed has invested time and effort to be with you, and is worthy of the committee's undivided attention and respect.
- BODY LANGUAGE: Committee members can set the candidate at ease by their own relaxed body language, which conveys openness, and a welcoming and non-defensive atmosphere.
- PATIENCE: The interviewer gives the person time to formulate thoughtful answers.
- LINKING: Building on what the person has said, the interviewer asks questions that pick up on information already shared in the interview. This indicates that you are thoughtfully listening.
- ALERTNESS: The interviewer remains alert for key words and phrases, making certain that they are understood by all committee members.
- CONCENTRATION: The interviewer listens for main ideas, not just facts and figures. They should ask themselves, “What is this person telling us?”
- CLARIFYING QUESTIONS: Interviewers ask clarifying questions to make certain they really understand what the person is saying. If a response is not clear, the committee should ask for it to be clarified. Doing so does not reflect ignorance but demonstrates that the committee is truly interested and trying to understand what the person is attempting to communicate.
- DELIBERATION: Committee members guard against coming to a hasty decision about a candidate. Thorough dialogue with other committee members and listening to all candidates are essential when making a final decision.

C. Preparing for the In-Person Visit

1. Set up dates and times for interviews, tours, and other activities, taking into account any differences in time zone that may affect the candidate’s schedule.
2. Arrange for travel, lodging (hotel/motel), and meals.
3. If the candidate is flying, provide a car so s/he can look around on their own.
4. Determine which call committee members will initially meet and welcome the candidate.
5. Show the candidate (and their spouse, if applicable) around the area and provide periods of unstructured time for them to decompress away from the call committee.
6. Provide and accompany the candidate to meals.
7. Escort the candidate to the interview with the call committee.
8. Ensure that many different call committee members have a chance to interact informally with the candidate. For example, the person who provides transportation should be different from the people with which the candidate shares meals.
Remember

- All expenses are covered by the congregation.
- The spouse, if present for the visit, should not participate in the actual interview. All other activities should be planned with the spouse included.
- Give the candidates an anticipated timeline so they know who to expect to contact them and where.
- Give written materials to each candidate about the congregation.

D. Conducting the Formal Interview

The call committee should designate one member to host the candidate at the interview site. If the member is not accompanying the candidate to the interview, be certain that they are on-hand well before the candidate’s anticipated arrival at the interview location.

The committee member chosen to direct the interview should outline the anticipated interview procedure for the candidate and indicate the time allotted for the interview. The candidate should be briefed on the “question and answer” format and alerted that they will have a chance to ask questions of the call committee. The lead interviewer is responsible for keeping the interview within the time allotted. Have all members of the call committee briefly introduce themselves to the candidate again, identifying his or her vocation and role played in the congregation. It may be helpful to have the candidate begin the interview with a brief devotional or Bible study and prayer, but if you choose to do this, be sure they are aware of this long before they arrive!

Before the committee’s begins asking the interview questions, it is appropriate for the committee chairperson to ask the candidate to briefly tell the committee something about herself or himself (this should take no more than five to seven minutes). After this, the formal questioning may begin. Questions may be assigned to various members of the call committee, assuring that all members are actively participating. Don’t hesitate to ask follow-up or clarifying questions if an answer is unclear to all members. Remember, the interview is intended to be a dialogue, not an inquisition! Just as the committee members are discerning the candidate’s viability for the congregation, so is the candidate discerning whether the congregation is a good fit.

One committee member may be designated to take notes on the candidate’s responses during the interview for later review by the committee. Note-taking should be done as unobtrusively as possible and the lead interviewer should alert the candidate beforehand that notes will be taken. Some committees might consider recording the interview, but recording should only take place with the candidate’s consent and with the assurance of strict confidentiality.

Avoid asking questions which can be answered with a simple yes or no. For example, the questioner should not ask, “Do you think you are effective in your ministry to youth?” The candidate will almost surely answer, “Yes.” Ask instead, “Tell us about your approach to ministry with youth,” or “Give us some examples of how you have worked effectively with youth in your present or former parish.” (Refer again to sample interview questions, Appendices 22 & 23)
In concluding the interview, the candidate may be invited to answer any questions not asked or make any other comments. The candidate should be thanked for coming and encouraged to be in phone contact with a designated member of the call committee if any additional questions arise. The call committee should indicate the approximate time table involved in the completion of the congregation's call process. If possible, at the conclusion of the interview, the committee should reimburse the candidate for any expenses incurred, such as travel costs, overnight accommodations, and meals. If the reimbursement cannot occur at the time of the interview, it should be completed within the following week and an appropriate explanation given to the candidate.

E. After the Interview

As soon as possible, definitely within one week of the interview, the call committee should meet to share initial impressions. It is important that these shared impressions are recorded for later reference.

As the committee engages in the process of selecting one candidate to recommend to the congregation council, it will be important to do several things:

- Pray for the guidance of the Holy Spirit.
- Clarify understandings of what it means for the committee to reach a consensus. We strongly discourage voting as a committee on candidates. The best practice is for prayer, conversation, and discernment to continue until consensus can be reached. A united front is the most effective way to communicate to the congregation why this person has been selected.
- Allow ample time for each committee member to speak and be heard.
- Come to a decision that takes into account the five top leadership needs of the congregation.
- Choose the most suitable candidate, not necessarily the one you think is most likely to accept the call.
- While listening to your own heart and impressions, go beyond asking “Which candidate do I favor?” Instead, ask “Which pastor can best serve our congregation?”

6: Following Up with Candidates

A. Follow Up

The call committee should send a letter or note of appreciation to each candidate for his or her willingness to be interviewed. This letter may encourage the candidate to address any additional questions or concerns to the call committee. Any expense reimbursement not made at the time of the interview should be made now. Again, a promise of keeping the candidate current regarding the call process is essential.

It is crucial that the call committee immediately notify the candidate when s/he is no longer being considered. The decision should also be submitted immediately to the contact person from the Office of the Bishop who is assisting you with the call process.
Upon releasing a candidat from further consideration – whether after an initial phone / Skype or a face-to-face interview – it is helpful for the candidate to hear the reasons why you do not think they would be a good match for your congregation at this time. This information is helpful to both the call committee and the candidate because it fosters clarity in the selection process and gives the candidate an opportunity for growth. (See sample Release of Candidate letter, Appendix 24)

B. Communication

Courtesy and professionalism are essential during this process. The call committee will communicate openly and honestly with the candidate and will continually inform the candidate about the status of their process. The call committee is also asked to stay in regular contact with the Office of the Bishop.

C. Finalizing a Candidate Recommendation

Discussion with the selected candidate should be continued to its conclusion, which might result in one of two possibilities:

1. If the discussion leads to the conclusion that this person is not the one the Holy Spirit is leading the congregation to call, the chair of the call committee should inform the candidate and the Office of Bishop. At this point, the Office of Bishop will provide names of additional candidates to the call committee.

2. If the discussion leads to the conclusion that this person is the one whom the Holy Spirit is leading the congregation to call, the call committee should notify the congregational council, and make a formal recommendation to the congregation. All other candidates should be released.

D. Making a Recommendation to the Congregation

As the Holy Spirit has guided the call committee to a candidate, the decision to recommend this pastor to the congregation is typically reached by common consent. If through prayer and consideration, the Holy Spirit has led the call committee to a unanimous decision on a candidate, this is certainly a time for celebration. Unanimous consent is definitely the best option.

7: The Role of the Congregational Council

A. Preliminary Compensation Discussions

When the call committee has identified their final candidate, the committee chair should contact the president of the congregational council and executive committee to have preliminary discussions about the compensation package. It is prudent to check with the candidate prior to his or her name being brought forth to council to ensure that the committee understands the candidate's compensation requirements and that they are in alignment with realistic compensation recommendations. The council president and/or the call committee chair should have that discussion with the candidate.
B. Special Congregation Council Meeting
The council president calls a special meeting of the council to hear the recommendation of the call committee. The committee chair presents the name of the pastor. A full report supporting the motion to recommend will accompany the recommendation.

Some things to keep in mind:

1. Compensation vote
The congregation council will determine the compensation package to be recommended to the congregation for its approval. This package will carry the consent of the candidate. Approval of forwarding the compensation package to the congregation requires a simple majority vote of the council. Please refer to the current compensation guidelines for helpful information regarding appropriate compensation figures (found at spselca.org).

2. Special meeting of the congregation
The council shall organize a special meeting of the congregation. The council will establish a date, time, and place for the special meeting of the congregation to vote on the call of the pastor and the compensation package. Proper arrangements will be made to notify the congregation of this meeting according to the congregation's constitution. Included in this notice will be the name and brief resume of the pastor and the compensation package. Prior to sending out this notice, the candidate should notify their current congregation council that they are now a primary candidate for this congregation.

3. Notification to the Office of the Bishop
When the call committee is ready to recommend a pastor to the congregation, the call committee chair, together with the council president, will notify the Office of the Bishop. The Bishop's office will supply a draft of the ELCA Letter of Call with a working copy in the call packet sent to the president of the congregation. The president or vice-president of the congregation is responsible for completing the Letter of Call and sending it to the Office of the Bishop for the Bishop's signature (S.14.11). The Bishop will normally appoint a representative of the Office of the Bishop, or a member of Synod Council, to be present at the meeting of the congregation when the vote is taken.
8: The Vote of the Congregation on the Candidate and the Compensation Package

A. Special Congregational Meeting
   1. Quorum required
      The person presiding at the meeting will determine that a quorum is present according to the congregation’s constitution and bylaws.

   2. First motion: vote to call the pastor
      At the congregation meeting, the first motion presented by the call committee chair, or designee, is that the congregation vote to call the pastor. It will be seconded and discussed. The call committee will present information about the pastor, why they were led to recommend this candidate to the congregation, and the strengths and gifts that the candidate offers to the ministry of the congregation.

      Only the one name recommended by the call committee can be voted on at this meeting. The vote shall be by secret written ballot. No absentee or proxy votes shall be accepted. The vote to elect is a least 2/3 affirmative vote of those present, as stated in the model constitution for congregations C9.01.

   3. Second motion: compensation package
      If the vote to call is successful, the second motion presented by the congregation council will be to approve the compensation package (salary, allowances, and other benefits) to be offered to the pastor. It will be seconded, discussed and voted on by the congregation. Amendments to the package recommended by the council can be made by majority vote of the congregation. The vote needed to approve the compensation package is a simple majority. It may be taken by voice vote, show of hands, or written ballot. It will be noted that if the amounts in the package differ from the approved budget, then a favorable vote, in effect, changes the budget for the year. Beyond constitutional limit, a separate motion must be brought to approve the new budget.

B. If the Call Is Approved by the Congregation
   After the call and compensation package has been approved, a personal contact by the call committee chair, or designee, will be immediately made with the pastor being called. The following procedure is used to send the official ELCA Letter of Call.

   The president or vice-president of the congregation is responsible for completing the Letter of Call and sending it to the Office of the Bishop for the Bishop’s signature (S.14.11). The pastor will send a letter of acceptance or decline of the call to both the congregation and the Bishop’s office. The pastor will accept or decline the call within thirty (30) days, unless otherwise agreed upon.
C. If the Pastor Accepts the Call
The newly-called pastor, along with the congregational council, will set the date when ministry will begin in the new parish. The president or vice-president of the congregation council will consult with the newly-called pastor to determine when the acceptance may be publicly announced.

Arrangements for moving will be made between the pastor and the officers of the calling congregation. The calling congregation is responsible for moving expenses. In some circumstances, the pastor and the congregation may negotiate other arrangements.

D. If the Call Is Not Approved by the Congregation
In the event that the call is not approved, the secretary of the congregation council will draft a letter to the candidate to report officially the results of the congregational meeting and to conclude the call process. Personal contact with the pastor will be made before the letter is sent. The Office of the Bishop will also be immediately notified.

E. The Call Is Declined by the Pastor
In the event that the pastor does not accept the call, the process will begin again with more names being offered to the call committee. Refer back to the flow chart on page 7.

9: Special Situations

1. First Call Candidates and Ordination
In the case where this is the candidate's first call, they must be ordained before being installed as the pastor. The ordination may take place at the candidate's home congregation or another congregation before being installed. They may choose to be ordained at their first call congregation. If this is the case, the officers of the congregation should contact the Office of the Bishop and the Conference Dean to prepare for a combined ordination and installation service.

2. Multiple-Congregation Parish
In the case of a parish with two or more congregations, each congregation votes separately on whether or not to call the pastor unless their constitution specifies another procedure. If there are not constitutional provisions for number of votes necessary for election, a 2/3 majority in each parish of all votes cast is necessary for approval. If the call is approved, the congregations authorize the joint council to issue the call and to agree on the salary and other items of support.

If one congregation approves the call and another does not, the call is not issued. No part of a joint parish may call a pastor without the participation of the other.

3. Associate/Assistant Pastors
When a pastor is called to serve in company with another pastor or pastors, the privileges and responsibilities of each pastor will be specified in documents that accompany the call. These documents must be drafted in consultation involving the pastors, the congregation council, and the Office of the Bishop.
4. Term Calls
   A congregation may call a pastor for a specific term of years. This departure from the normal rule of permanency must be described in a statement of purpose, which the Bishop must approve.

5. Part-time Ministries
   Part-time ministries are normally defined as a minimum of 20 hours of work each week to qualify as a call. Anyone in part-time ministry must be given permission and opportunity to seek additional employment to supplement his or her income. All arrangements for part-time calls should be discussed with the Office of the Bishop beforehand and details need to be in writing.

10: Installation of the new Pastor

The start of this new joint ministry between the pastor and the congregation is marked by the ritual of installing the pastor. The date is set in partnership with the pastor, the congregation, and the Conference Dean. The date and time should be set so that neighboring faith communities can celebrate with the congregation. The Conference Dean will normally preside at this service. The Order of Installation of the Pastor may be found in the Occasional Services Book.

During the First Year
The Office of the Bishop strongly recommends the first year of ministry be supported by an intentional program of relationship-building and leadership development. One such program is Healthy Start. The Office of the Bishop can offer more details about the benefits of these kinds of programs.

The Call Process for Second Pastors, and Deacons
Congregation councils and call committees are encouraged to follow the same process as previously listed for ordained rostered leaders when calling a second pastor or a deacon. All steps may not be required and should be adapted to the local situation (e.g. a person already employed by the congregation as a lay staff person and who becomes rostered). Assistance is available from the Office of the Bishop to help determine the appropriate process to follow in calling a Minister of Word and Service.

Covenantal Relationships

“A complete relationship needs a covenant . . . A covenantal relationship rests on a shared commitment to ideas, to issues, to values to goals, and to management processes . . . Covenantal relationships reflect unity and grace and poise. They are expressions of the sacred nature of relationships.”

from the 5th Discipline: The Art & Practice of the Learning Organization written by Peter M. Senge.

Senge is quoting from a book called The Art of Leadership written by M. dePree in 1989.
Appendix 1
Frequently asked questions about the transition process

How long will it take to find a pastor?
Every congregation is different and the length of the transition varies in length. It will normally take between twelve and eighteen months, but some last longer. The length of the process depends on the time it takes the call committee to complete the MSP, the number of candidates interviewed, the time call committee and candidates have available for conversation, and the needs of the congregation for grieving and preparation for the next pastor.

What will the congregation do during this time of transition regarding pastoral leadership?
In a pastoral vacancy, the Office of Bishop, in consultation with the Congregation Council, will contract with an Interim Pastor who will, at a minimum, lead worship/preach (or arrange for this leadership) weekly, meet with the Council each month, and provide emergency pastoral care. The responsibilities of the Interim Pastor will vary and may range from a few hours a week to full-time, depending on the availability of the Interim Pastor and the needs of the Congregation. A letter of agreement is signed between the Council and the Pastor that explains exactly what the Interim Pastor will be doing during this time and will be signed by the Office of the Bishop.

What are the sources of names provided by the Office of the Bishop to the Call Committee?
The names of the candidates come from a variety of places, including:
- Pastors from the Sierra Pacific Synod asking to be available for conversation with Call Committees and having submitted their Rostered Leader Profile.
- Pastors from other synods who have asked that their Rostered Leader Profile be shared with congregations in the Sierra Pacific Synod. Please note that Candidates from outside the Sierra Pacific Synod must be given clearance by their Synodical Bishop and approved by the Office of the Bishop of the Sierra Pacific Synod before they can be considered for an interview.
- Pastors identified by the Office of the Bishop as particularly suited for a congregation.
- Recent seminary graduates awaiting their first Call.
- Names of Pastors suggested by members of the Congregation must be shared with the Office of the Bishop and approved by the Bishop to considered potential candidates.

How do we determine appropriate compensation?
The synod compensation guidelines serve as a guide to congregations and candidates in helpful conversation regarding what is fair and adequate compensation. The compensation guidelines worksheet can be found on the synod website. A representative from the Office of the Bishop can accompany you through this process.

Can we invite the candidates to preach in our congregation on a Sunday morning?
It is not our recommendation that candidates be invited to preach in a congregation where they are being considered. If a candidate preaches in the congregation, the entire congregation becomes involved in the overall process and members are put in the position of deciding on that person's merit on the basis of worship leadership and one sermon alone, which is only one of many elements of pastoral ministry. The effect is to displace the careful, prayerful discernment of the Call Committee. The Call Committee members will have the opportunity to hear or see recordings of sermons provided by the candidates. If the candidate is local, the call committee could travel to the Pastor’s congregation or to a neutral site to hear him or her preach. If this is a desire, please arrange the timing of this visit with the pastor. When a Pastor is being considered and is not presently serving a site the Synod staff can assist in setting up a supply location for him or her to preach and lead worship where the call committee could go to participate in worship. It is appropriate for the congregation to meet the final candidate at an informal meet and greet.

Should the congregation expect there to be expenses related to the work of the Call Committee?
Yes. Mileage reimbursement to committee members and to any candidates who interview with your committee can be expected. The committee may also have receipts for expenses related to meals or refreshments provided. We recommend that you use the standard IRS mileage rate for reimbursement. Often councils will designate the expenses of the Call Committee and the process out of any remainder left in your pastoral compensation package.

Should there be alternate members of the Call Committee?
We do not recommend alternate members; however, if alternates are elected or appointed, they should attend all meetings of the Call Committee and have voice, but should not vote unless a regular member of the Committee finds it necessary to relinquish his or her position.
Appendix 2
Exit Interview – Sample Questions

Questions the committee might ask:
1. What would you say was the most satisfying part of your ministry?
2. What would be some of the most frustrating parts of your ministry here? What would make those areas less frustrating for the next pastor?
3. Are there any organizational or structural issues that you see could be improved? Do you have any recommendations in that regard?
4. What strengths or special talents do you see in this congregation? Do you have recommendations on how we might use or continue to use those gifts to the best advantage in the future?

Letter of agreement between a former pastor & congregation

This is a letter of agreement at the time of resignation/retirement between Pastor_____________ and the congregation council of _____________ in _______________ city, _______________ state. It is a clarification of the former pastor’s role in relationship to this congregation. It is to be shared throughout the congregation so that others may understand changes in responsibilities and can cooperate together as the congregation and former pastor move into another phase of their respective lives.

1. The pastor’s resignation, effective _______, signifies their understanding that all pastoral and administrative duties in this congregation are terminated as of that date.

2. It is mutually understood that this termination of responsibilities applies also to the Interim period before another pastor is called, since the congregation needs some time and space between pastors to discover who they are now, where they want to go, and with what new leadership. It is agreed that the congregation council will make provision with the Office of the Bishop for interim pastoral leadership for the congregation.

3. The former pastor agrees that they will not officiate or assist at any baptism, wedding, or funerals in this congregation, or attend as a worshipper, even on occasion. This is to prevent divided loyalties in the congregation and pressures on either the former for future pastors or interim pastors.

4. The former pastor agrees that they will not continue to make pastoral visits on members of the congregation. Circumstances make it necessary for exception for limited involvement in the following instances:
   a) ____________________________________________
   b) ____________________________________________

5. The former pastor agrees further that if attending this congregation in the future, it will only be as worshipper and participant and that they will neither say or listen to any uncomplimentary or critical remarks in social or other gatherings concerning the interim, past or future pastors.

6. The former pastor will not do services (wedding, baptism, funeral, etc.) unless it is the specific initiation and request of the current pastor (rather than member). The former pastor will not be present in any way in the life of the congregation without the direct invitation of the current pastor. This expectation is in effect no matter how long the former pastor has been away from ________ Lutheran Church.

7. The former pastor will remove their vestments, equipment, books, and possessions by _________. All items belonging to the congregation will remain in the congregation. Keys to the building will be returned to the church office, no; later than ____________.

8. The former pastor will continue serving in the community in the following capacities:
   a) ____________________________________________
   b) ____________________________________________

THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN CONGREGATION AND DEPARTING PASTOR

Because we want everyone to be aware of some important issues related to the transition between pastors, we ask you to read this carefully.

The Church Council and former Pastor have agreed to the following, and seek your cooperation, regarding the positive future relationships among us:

We will do everything possible to uphold the mission of the Church and the positive quality of life in this congregation.

We will recognize the need for time to adjust to the new relationships, and will reach out in care and compassion to one another.

We will honor the departure of the former pastor so duties may be relinquished; and will honor the arrival of the new pastor by seeking their counsel and ministry. We are aware that conducting pastoral acts (such as baptism, weddings, funerals, confirmations, communions) and defining ministry programs and leadership styles are no longer the prerogative of the departing pastor, but belong to the arriving pastor with the Council and congregation.

While we recognize that we will continue to care about the departing pastor and family, we will not expect nor invite the pastor to participate in congregational life, with the possible exception of special congregational anniversaries or observations.

The nature of the relationship between pastor and people often gets translated as the pastor being a friend. The reality is that while the pastor may indeed have been very friendly, the relationship is not one of friendship.

Experience across the Church has shown that continuing relationships with former pastors is very positive when the above things are kept in mind.

You have presided as confirmands affirmed their baptismal promises. As you leave this font, we thank you for your ministry surrounding baptismal promises.

CONGREGATION: THANKS BE TO GOD!

ALTAR: At this altar you have presided at the Sacrament of Holy Communion. You have reminded the members here of the story of Jesus' beginning of this meal. The meal is the Lord's, and this congregation has been provider of this meal to all who seek to be fed with the living presence of Christ. You have presided over this meal so that it could be served in an orderly fashion. As you leave this table, we thank you for presiding at the Sacrament of Holy Communion.

CONGREGATION: THANKS BE TO GOD!

CHANCEL STEP: Standing in front of this congregation you have led services of thankfulness to God for people who had died. You led this community in the midst of grief while expressing gratitude for God's gift of life. You proclaimed the Good News of the resurrection of Jesus Christ and encouraged the community with the comfort of the gospel. As you leave this sanctuary, we thank you for your presence in times of loss.
CONGREGATION: THANKS BE TO GOD!

With hope in God's abundant grace in years to come,

I announce that Name’s service as position in Name of Congregation is now concluded.

Every congregation experiencing a new pastoral vacancy will, by the very nature of the vacancy, experience an interim. The question is: “Will the interim period be intentional or unintentional?” The Sierra Pacific Synod Office of the Bishop seeks for the congregation to experience an intentional interim period leading to a long, happy, relationship between the people and new pastor.

A vitally important step in beginning transition is to work with the Office of the Bishop in the selection and/or appointment of an interim pastor. Today many retired pastors and others have been trained and are prepared to help serve a congregation for the specific time between when a pastor leaves and a new regular pastor begins. The Office of the Bishop can work with the Council to help make this transition time a valuable, growing experience for the congregation.

Some congregations may feel they can "get by" with supply pastors on Sundays and call upon neighboring clergy for pastoral emergencies. While this may seem satisfactory for a short time, experience suggests that it is preferable to have continuity and at least part-time interim pastoral services. There are important parish developmental tasks to be accomplished during the interim time. If the congregation does not have the benefit of a trained interim pastor to serve in the role of John the Baptist, as a "way-preparer," the newly-called settled pastor may have a difficult time being accepted by members. Likewise, giving in to anxiety and pressures to "hurry up and get us a new pastor" can be counter-productive in the long run. Ghosts of an unresolved past may return to haunt a new pastor who is chosen through a hasty call process. Experience in many parishes over the years also indicates that the congregation which tries to save money by "getting by" with minimal interim pastoral services is "penny-wise and pound-foolish." If only minimal pastoral compensation is required, many members will perceive that their regular contributions are not needed and the congregation's overall financial stewardship can decline rapidly.

A typical interim arrangement for smaller congregations might be to engage the service of a trained interim pastor on a half-time basis. This will assure the congregation of ongoing continuity in Sunday worship, as well as basic pastoral care and some program leadership. Obviously, one who ministers on a part-time schedule will not be able to cover all the bases of a full-time pastor; this kind of arrangement gives unique opportunities for lay leadership to grow and assume functions which may have been previously carried out by the settled pastor. Keep in mind that the interim will be needing to provide particular attention to the five focus areas in addition to attending to the regular pastoral functions. Some ministry programs may need to go on hiatus if they cannot be carried out by volunteers, particularly in a part-time setting.

Interim pastors do not serve under call from the congregation; if retired, they retain clergy status and if under call as interim pastor, the source of call is the synod council. For clarity of expectations regarding expected areas of ministry and compensation, an Interim Service Agreement should be completed and signed by the pastor, congregational officers and the Office of the Bishop. Compensation for full or part-time interim pastoral leadership should be based upon the synodical guidelines, with possible adjustment as dictated by the needs and circumstances of the interim pastor. In order to be free of pressures from members to become a candidate for the settled call, the Interim Agreement includes a clear statement that the interim pastor is not eligible for the settled call. This also protects the call committee’s ability to interview and consider a number of candidates without undue pressure from congregational members to call the one who is "close at hand."

Interim Ministry in the Sierra Pacific Synod

The period of transition in congregations, while in between permanent pastors, is an important time. It can be a “defining moment” in addressing the congregation’s mission, clarifying it and stimulating growth responses. It is an opportunity to review the past and anticipate the future, maintaining as well as envisioning the impact of its ministry. At the very least, the interim time will include carrying out tasks of preparation so that the next “chapter” of ministry begins with promise. The work of interim ministry focuses on a congregation’s continued sense of mission and service, while experiencing a change of pastors. The emphasis is on REVIEWING its past and current state while ANTICIPATING the future. Attention is given to the congregation’s organizational structure and assessing its responsiveness in ministry without an exclusive concentration on the pastor’s role. Maintaining programs and services is a concern during the interim in providing continuity.

Such an “interim emphasis”, objective in nature, allows for an examination of a congregation’s health while seeking to prepare for the next era of its ministry. Preparation will consist of appropriate responses to the areas explored (such as pastor-lay mutual ministry with clarification of roles, mission priorities, leadership changes and training, effective organization and identifying unique characteristics of the congregation). This goes hand-in-hand with the developing “Ministry Site Profile” describing the congregation.

During the interim time there is review of the congregation’s history in order to gain insight into significant patterns or themes that impact the present. Effort is given toward identifying the current active membership and its characteristics while also considering needed leadership changes. The interim pastor’s role is vital in modeling a constructive pastor/lay partnership and in encouraging forward movement.

Loss of the previous pastor is experienced by members of the congregation in different ways (personal, organizational, momentum/vision) and opportunity needs to be given for people to share their feelings and support one another in accepting this new reality.

It takes time for a congregation to adjust to a new circumstance in which its pastor is no longer present. Individually and as a congregation, members will find their way as they utilize available resources. The process of RE-VIEWING, RE-DEFINING and RE-VISIONING will be time consuming and yet productive in the end, responding to present and future challenges in ministry.

Each congregation presents similar, but also differing challenges in the interim period. This is due in part to the circumstance that has resulted in the pastoral vacancy. For example, how difficult will it be to say good-bye to the pastor who is leaving? How long has it been since the congregation experienced a change of pastors? Is there division or brokenness which requires healing? Then, factors related to the congregation’s program and priorities in ministry account for still other challenges. Additional situations requiring interim pastoral service may be congregations in which pastors are planning a sabbatical leave or where there is medical leave.
Identifying specific challenges and arriving at realistic goals for the interim period is an important discipline. Understanding the temporary but unique aspects of interim ministry can lead to opportunities for exploration and growth.

Benefits of Interim Ministry

- Matching the special skills of a particular pastor with the special needs of a congregation in transition
- Assisting in any needed healing process for congregations that have recent or long-term histories of conflict or that face a particular crisis
- Enabling transition from the extended service of its previous pastor to the succeeding pastor
- Expediting any special transition the congregation must make as it does mission in a changing environment
- Providing ministry at a time when the congregation is open to reflection and growth or is in decline

(adapted from Guidelines for Ordained Ministers Serving In Interim Ministry, Division for Ministry, ELCA)

Guiding Principles From Synod Constitution

S14.15. The parochial records of each congregation shall be kept in a separate book which shall remain its property. The secretary of the congregation shall attest to the bishop of this synod that such records have been placed in his or her hands in good order by a departing pastor before: a) installation in another field of labor, or b) the issuance of a certificate of dismissal or transfer.

S14.17. During service to a congregation, an interim pastor shall have the rights and duties in the congregation of a regularly called pastor. The interim pastor may delegate the same in part to an interim supply pastor with the consent of the bishop of this synod. The interim pastor and any ordained ministers who may assist shall refrain from exerting influence in the selection of a pastor. Upon completion of service, the interim pastor shall certify to the bishop of this synod that the parochial records, for the period for which the interim pastor was responsible, are in order.

C9.06. At a time of pastoral vacancy, an interim pastor shall be appointed by the bishop of the synod with the consent of this congregation or the Congregation Council.

Activities of The Interim Period

In addition to its usual work, the congregation council's agenda during the interim period includes:

- Determining leadership skills needed
- Assessing the probable time span
- Securing and contracting with an interim pastor
- Selecting and supporting the call committee
- Promoting stability in the congregation amidst change
Determining preliminary salary/benefits for the next pastor

Providing leadership in the congregation

The congregation is assisted by the interim pastor in addressing the five focus areas during this time, as a means to prepare for the future.

- Heritage: Reviewing how the congregation has been shaped and formed
- Leadership: Reviewing the membership needs and its ways of organizing and developing new and effective leadership
- Mission: Defining and redefining sense of purpose and direction
- Connections: Discovering all the relationships a faith community builds outside of itself
- Future: Developing congregational and pastoral profiles

Also, the congregation asks:

- Who Are We?
- Who Are Our Neighbors?
- What Is God Calling Us To Do?

The value of the interim period will be enhanced if the congregation council develops goals and objectives to be achieved. These can result from sessions of frank discussion and planning. It is expected that after goals are set, future checkpoints will review progress, making adjustments along the way.

A successful interim experience requires negotiating a clear, specific, and realistic contract between the congregation and the interim pastor with support from the Office of the Bishop. Issues to be included are:

- Basic salary, housing allowance and expenses
- Benefits (vacation, continuing education, pension/health)
- Term of agreement
- Time: full-time, part-time, and how defined
- Duties in general and specifics emphasized
- Establish to whom the interim pastor is responsible

Partnership of Congregation and Synod

In reviewing its situation, each congregation council has responsibility to consult with the Office of the Bishop in making interim plans. Council members completing the interim assessment form provided by the Office of the Bishop will assist in the process of determining congregational needs. Some congregations find it best to engage a full-time interim pastor while for others a part-time pastor serves. In any case, members of the congregation are challenged to assume greater leadership at this time.
The Sierra Pacific Synod recognizes the importance of transition and seeks to provide direction and support to congregation councils as well as interim pastors. The Intentional Interim Steering Committee regularly offers training and support for those seeking to serve as interim pastors. Trained Intentional Interim Pastors are given preference when recommendations are being made to congregations. Attention is given initially to the tasks of the interim period with the appointment of an interim pastor, followed closely by the establishment of the call committee and giving direction to the call process.

Summary
The role of interim pastor is an important one for a congregation seeking a settled pastor and the five tasks are crucial in maintaining or establishing congregational health. The beginning of the interim is significant as it sets the tone for the entire period. From the outset, the interim pastor's role is to help the congregation develop confidence in their ability to assist through this crucial time. To do this, the interim pastor seeks to communicate strength and sensitivity in appropriate ways in the congregation. Because it is in the midst of transition and uncertainty, a primary goal is to help the congregation feel secure with the leadership of the interim pastor, allowing for continued growth and health.

Litany of Beginning for Interim Ministry

It would be appropriate to insert this into the Sunday morning liturgy on the first or second Sunday that the Interim Pastor begins ministry among you. As a symbol of beginning, it makes sense to place it at the beginning of the service after the greeting and Kyrie.

A representative of the Synod: Pastor ____________ has been contracted to be the Interim Pastor here at ________________. This is a ministry of specific tasks designed for the particularities of transition. Congregational President or other representative will read the interim agreement between Pastor ________ and this congregation.

Congregation President: (Reads the Agreement)

Congregation President: (address Pastor): Is it also your understanding of our agreement?

Pastor: It is and I commit myself to this new trust and responsibility. I promise to fulfill my responsibilities here to the best of my ability in accordance with the scripture, with the Lutheran Confessions, and the Constitution of the ELCA. Will you as a congregation receive me as your pastor and partner in ministry as we seek God's call for us in this interim period?

Congregation: We will.

Congregation President: Welcome Pastor ________. We now officially begin our partnership in this interim ministry in the name of the Father and of the Son + and of the Holy Spirit.

Congregation: Amen.

Pastor: Let us pray

Almighty God, you call you people in baptism into death and resurrection of your son, Jesus Christ. You turn us from the old life of sin and gave us rebirth and everlasting life. May we be renewed daily by the gift of your Holy Spirit and may we be especially aware of your leading in this interim period. Grant us faithfulness and peace in all that we do so that you may be glorified among us. We pray through your Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Congregation: Amen
Review of the Congregation’s History

Congregations need to come to terms with their history in order to move on. There is in every congregation that which has been creative and worth celebrating and that which has been debilitating. And just as human beings are shaped by their histories and experiences, so too, is a congregation.

The interim time should be filled with the telling of stories, remembering the happy events of the past and talking out loud about the sad ones. The sharing helps members get a perspective on their past, helps them “remember” things they may not personally have experienced, and frees them from unexpected and seemingly unexplainable actions that might pop up later.

Your interim pastor will have some ideas on how to help the call committee lead this review of history but here are some suggestions you might want to consider.

- Have a History Day and invite people to bring old snapshots of past church events. Plan an album by decade or by year where these pictures can be put and invite people to tell and write stories about them in the album. Make it a day of celebration.

- Make a timeline of the church putting years of pastors’ service, building projects, significant events of the congregation on the line. One might then ask members to write on the timeline when they joined or were married or were baptized. Ask them to write memories on the timeline of things that were significant for them (e.g. notable events, people, etc.). Talk about the events and what they mean to people. Don’t be afraid to talk about why a pastor left or why a pastor served for only a short time. Name the emotions that people experience in the memory.

- Put a church trivia quiz in each newsletter. Be sure to publish the answers since knowledge of the history is what this is about.

If you notice that the congregation is generally “living in the past,” that is, they long for things to “return” to the way they were; if they are unwilling to look at the why of traditions and practices; if they are stuck in anger, denial, grief or alienation; or if they exhibit selective memory of the congregation’s past, then addressing the history in a creative way will be important.

With the pastor, pay special attention to individuals who are having difficulty with this process. Not everyone will be able to move ahead at the same rate and pastoral care is important to everyone. Since your interim pastor does not know members as well as you do, be helpful in identifying for him/her, people who may need special pastoral attention.
Appendix 12

Review of the Congregation Constitution and Policies

It will be important that your constitution is updated so that your call process goes smoothly. Review what you have extent and compare it to the model constitution of the ELCA. You can download the model constitution from the ELCA web site www.ELCA.org. The model constitution has various changes, usually minor, every three years after the ELCA church wide assembly in August. Every congregation council should have on their regular agenda, an update of the constitution at least every third year.

As you are reviewing your constitution in the transition period, make note of the sections and lines that must be in your constitution and the things that are optional or have various options. If you haven't updated your constitution for a long while, you may find that there are quite a number of decisions to be made about changes.

When you have updated your constitution, you may send it to the Synod Constitution Review Committee for review: Office of the Bishop 9985 Folsom Blvd., Sacramento CA 95827. The committee will make sure that you don't have conflicting statements in sections and that it is consistent with the ELCA model constitution. The committee will return your constitution within 120 days and keep a copy of file in the synod office. If the 120 days expire before it is returned, the constitution becomes effective as it was sent in. Remember that a change in the constitution, even an update, takes a congregational vote, so be sure to do this early in the transition process.

It is likely there are one or two people in the congregation who are gifted and interested in this particular task. Let those people work out the draft and bring it to the church council for review and revision.

At the same time that you are reviewing your constitution, be sure that your congregation policies are in place and up to date. At a minimum every congregation should have a current personnel policy and financial policy including endowments and investments. You should also look at updating/creating a personnel manual, mutual ministry policy, sabbatical leave policy, parental leave policy, wedding and funeral policy, memorials policy, safe children policies, publications policy, policies regarding use of building and special equipment, etc.

It may seem like a lot of work if you have none of these in place, but it is important for incorporated entities to have procedures in place so that decisions are made in an orderly manner and reflect the core values of the congregation. You will find that decision making is streamlined as they provide guidance and framework for committees, boards, and individual members. Begin work on these policies during the interim period so that your new pastor won't have to search for them in old archives.
Every congregation has a purpose. We know that we have been sent “to make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.” (Matthew 28:19). And we know congregations function in the areas of faith, fellowship and service. A mission statement that reflects those things could be applied to almost any Christian congregation. But no two congregations are exactly the same. Each one has a different personality, a different ambience, a different realm in which it functions best. Each one has its own core values, some of which may be similar to other churches, but there are some core values that make your congregation unique. These are the lenses through which you see the world, the priorities you have established for yourselves. As you begin to evaluate and update your mission statement, try to list 4 or 5 core values of your congregation.

Every congregation also has a vision, what it shall be some day. A vision is necessary for survival. “Where there is no vision, the people perish.” (Proverbs 29:18) Maybe you have not given much thought to your congregational vision lately. The interim period is a good time to re-vision your congregation. Prepare your hearts for the vision that God has for you. Spend intentional time in the interim period with spiritual disciplines. Establish a Bible Study and encourage everyone’s participation. The Book of Acts has a lot to offer a congregation doing a self-reflection and self-study as do Paul’s letters to the Corinthians. The Book of Nehemiah, probably less familiar to many, is the story of great visionary who sets about rebuilding the wall around Jerusalem. He encounters many of the same things that congregations today encounter.

As you prepare your hearts and minds for God’s vision for your congregation, you will be asking yourself: “What is our purpose? What is God calling us to be?” And then as you discover your vision for your future, you will identify the activities you will engage to get there. This becomes your mission statement.

A vision statement is more about becoming:
- It pictures the future of your congregation as God has planned it to be
- It describes the results you hope you will realize in the “real world”
- It captures the uniqueness that God has given your congregation
- It is short, motivational, and easy to memorize
  Example: to be a congregation that is known as a safe haven for all people.

A mission statement is more about doing:
- It tells something about your purpose as a part of the larger body of Christ
- It hints at how you will make your vision a reality
- It is short, motivational, and easy to memorize
  Example: We welcome our neighbor with enthusiasm and love, knowing that God will show us the ministry we might do.
Core values are more about being:

- Each one will describe what people experience in your congregation
- Together they capture the uniqueness which is your congregation
- They are fundamental to the beliefs and lived out

Example: Empowerment; Hospitality; Challenge; Journey; Community

So let's think about the process you might engage in order to develop or redefine your core values, vision, and mission. Let's begin with, Core Values are intended to communicate what the congregation stands for and on what principles it operates. They guide the everyday actions of members and staff as well as congregational planning. We assume that a congregation which demonstrates its core values at a high level, it will be more effective in its ministry as will be easier to be identified by others.

1. One way to help people discover and identify their core values would be to invite all, congregation members to gather in focus groups after worship on a Sunday. It will actually take two Sundays, two weeks apart and they should both be scheduled before you have the first one. Make it celebratory and not a drudging “duty.” What could be more exciting than discovering what God is calling you to do? As people are seated at tables, tell them that you are going to articulate your core values in order to be focused in your ministry. Define core values in a way that is clear to all, maybe as simply as using the definition above.

- Give each person 10 sticky notes. Ask them to write on sticky notes (one comment per note), the main things that they personally live by. For example, some may write kindness, honesty, hospitality, friendliness, privacy, or integrity. Others may include things like family, friends, relationships, achievement, jokes and humor. All of these things reflect values of individuals. Ask them to go put all those sticky notes on the wall someplace where all may see them.

- On different color sticky notes, ask them to write things that reflect the values of the congregation. What are some words that reflect how the congregation makes decisions, treats people, and does ministry? Some of the words might be the same, but new words may be added as well. Ask them to put those sticky notes on the wall as well.

- Then there will be a time of “storytelling.” Ask people about a time when one of those “congregational values” was demonstrated. Keep that conversation going until everyone who is willing has had a chance to share. Ask if there have been times when the congregation has acted in ways that reflect values other than those listed? Add those values to the list. Ask if there are things on the personal values list that should be added to the congregation's value list? Add those values to the list.

- Let people think about the values as they leave this section and let them know that they will gather again to refine the list. Take the information from the sticky notes and put it on a single page and leave the values posted somewhere in the church where people have access to them. Ask people to add to the list if they think of something during the next two weeks. How have they seen them reflected? How might they be guides in decision making? How have those values formed their thinking? How have those values shaped their faith journey? Then ask the members to select the top five core values.
They may decide they want to name them something different in order to incorporate one or more values. For example, they may have kindness and helpfulness as core values but may decide to change the word to compassion in order to incorporate both words.

- At the second meeting, two weeks later, give everyone 10 'sticky dots'. Ask them to place their dots next to the ten values they believe the congregation should claim as its core values. In other words, what are the top 10 things to live by as a congregation? Have some conversation about those ten values.

- Post the core values in a place where people can see them and begin to ask about them in terms of stories that reflect those values. Bring up the values at council meetings as decisions are being made and ask what decision would best reflect our values. Live with them for a while and get feedback through the council. Note differences between the preferred values (what is listed) and true values (what is demonstrated) of the congregation. Set a time to talk about those at a later date.

2. Your congregation probably has a mission statement already. Does it reflect your core values? Does it describe the overall purpose of the congregation? Is it clear to those who are not members or part of the congregation? Does it guide the members of the congregation as they make decisions, make policies, and develop ministries? Do the members of the congregation know and embrace the mission statement? Where is the mission statement displayed? Where is it discussed? How does the mission statement shape the mission of the congregation and how is the mission of the congregation reflected in the mission statement?

   It's usually easier to write a mission statement in a small group than in the congregation as a whole. It is important, however, to have a feedback loop that includes everyone, so that the statement is not something imposed on them and the congregation can “own” it.

3. A vision statement reflects where the congregation sees itself in the future if it is effectively carrying out its mission. Putting together a vision statement can be an enjoyable process allowing people to “dream big” and “imagine success.” The statement can be used as a motivational tool or as a reminder of why we do what we do as a congregation. A helpful vision statement is one that has an idealism mixed with realism. What will your congregation look like in ten years if you are actively engaged in your mission? What does God have in mind for you given the gifts he has placed in this congregation?
Appendix 14
A Review of Staffing Needs and Resources

It is often the case that when a pastor resigns, staff members submit undated letters of resignation as well. The smaller the congregation, the more appropriate this is. A pastor should be allowed then to work with the people who are in place for a few months to decide if the working relationship is such that they can accept the resignation(s) or simply tear them up and rewrite new contracts for staff members.

This process of requesting staff resignation is sometimes difficult because our tendency is to want to “take care of” the people we have come to know on the congregation’s staff. Certainly compassion for staff members is important and that will be reflected in their compensation, bonuses, and severance packages if their resignations are accepted. Always keep in mind that our congregation has a purpose: a vision and a mission to make disciples of God’s kingdom.

As you begin to look for a new pastor, it is time to look at the total staffing picture as well. Staffing is a function of the vision of the congregation. And as a function of vision, staffing should always be focused on the future. A rule of thumb is to staff for the next step of your future. What is your next step? What functions will need to be carried out to reach your vision? Who is gifted in those areas? Are there volunteers in the congregation who see this as their ministry? Is paid staff the best alternative? Should the staff position be full or part time? Are there people available for full time or part time?

Congregations sometimes seem hesitant to evaluate staff members, however careful and regular evaluation is a benefit both to the employee and to the mission of the congregation. Volunteers might also be given opportunity for evaluation as well. Keep in mind that evaluations are not a measure of the person so much as they are a measure of whether that person is right for that particular task or job. Every existing job should have a job description. Checking the written job description against what that employee may be now expected to do is a task for this interim period. Your interim pastor will help you find resources for staff evaluations, for writing job descriptions and for developing a policy for regular evaluations in the congregation.

As you look at the tasks ahead to carry out your mission, you will need to discern whether volunteers will be as effective as paid staff and whether the task requires full time or part time work. If the task requires part time staffing now, how will it increase as the ministry grows? Continually evaluate your ministry and the increases in work that employees and volunteers take on. Look at the market to establish fair wages and benefits. Annually review employee compensation and compare to cost of living increases, market parity, and value to the congregations. Treat employees fairly.

You are in the process right now of evaluating your pastoral needs. How should those be balanced with other staff positions in your congregation? Remember that Deacons are trained in a variety of specialties such as: Youth and Family Ministry, Educational Ministry, Outreach Ministry, Music Ministry, Administration, Spiritual Care and Counseling. It’s possible that a Minister of Word and Service or lay person might fill some of your ministry needs as you grow into your future.
Some congregations have staff positions in these areas:

- Director of Music
- Office Administrator
- Director of Christian Education
- Director of Adult Ministry
- Director of Small Group Ministry
- Volunteer Coordinator
- Hospitality Coordinator
- Visitation Coordinator
- Director of Family Ministry
- Youth and Family Minister
- Director of Outreach and Social Ministry

Clearly each one of these comes with a job description that helps the specific congregation carry out its mission. And each of the congregations has developed its mission based on how it understands the vision that God has for them. Once you are clear about your values, vision and mission, and appropriate staff, and then look at the possibilities for staffing.
Appendix 15
Intentional Stewardship

Supporting the mission of your congregation is more than just hiring staff as was discussed in the last section. But often the process is the impetus to look as stewardship in the congregation. Talk over a stewardship strategy with your interim pastor and feel free to contact the Office of the Bishop for resources in this area.

Stewardship is a key to accomplishing the mission of the congregation and is a reflection of its health as well. There is no “perfect” stewardship plan for a congregation and the same plan may or may not be effective in any two years. However, every stewardship plan is integral to your core values, your vision, and your mission.

We are sometimes hesitant to talk about stewardship in churches, forgetting that we exercise stewardship every time we make a decision about what we will or will not do. Christians are called to be intentional about their stewardship, not just of money, but of their time and other resources as well. Intentional stewardship is bringing to consciousness and witness those things that we are already doing and those things that we intend, with God's help, to do in the future.

As you develop your stewardship plan in the congregation remember these things:

- People give to purposes they believe in.
- People give to things that make a difference.
- People give to things where they feel they have “ownership.”
- People tend to be generous, decent, and fair.

Think about how you present an overall stewardship plan that includes regular offerings to the congregation, special gifts and capital campaigns, and end of life of legacy gifting. The congregational council has the opportunity to take leadership on stewardship during the transition time. Work with your interim pastor as you develop your intentional stewardship plan.

Related to your overall stewardship plan is an inventory of your corporate physical plant. As you get ready to call a new pastor and re-evaluate your ministry as a congregation, the following inventory will give you some questions to ask yourselves about property and the message the property gives as a witness to who you are. It isn’t meant to be a check list, to simply answer the questions, but as a guide for making improvements and upgrades to make the building more inviting and hospitable to guests. It will lead to discussions within the council, then as to non-material ways to be hospitable as well.

Appendix 17
Selecting the Call Committee

The Committee which guides the Transition Process is called the Call Committee. The members may be elected by the congregation or appointed by the Congregation Council. Be sure to check your congregation's constitution. If allowed, we recommend that the council appoint a committee size of 5 - 7 members representative of the areas of congregational life.

A critical relationship is that between call committee and the Congregation Council. Again, be sure to check your constitution. Most often, the Call Committee is commissioned with all the aspects of identifying a candidate to recommend to the congregation for call, with the Church Council preparing a compensation package in keeping with the synod guidelines.

It is helpful to select a chairperson for the Call Committee who is not the chief elected lay officer of the congregation (president or vice president, depending on your structure). That person will have ongoing responsibilities for congregational life. The Call Committee chair need not be a member of the Council.

The Characteristics desired in Call Committee members are as follows:

1. Worship Participation
   - Familiarity with the worship life of a congregation is critical for a call committee member. The member should know how the congregation worships and what its expectations are relating to worship. More importantly, regular participation in worship speaks of a commitment to honor God, hear God's word, and receive God's gifts of mercy and grace.

2. A Person of Prayer
   - The call committee will seek the guidance of the Holy Spirit through prayer as it goes about its work. The committee will invite and lead the congregation in praying that God's will be accomplished in the call process. A person who prays will be able to entertain new thoughts and directions as the Spirit leads.

3. Can Represent the Whole Congregation
   - The call committee should consist of persons who know the needs of the whole congregation, and while they might have a primary interest in one area, they are able to make judgments based on the greater good of the whole congregation. The goal is to make winners of the whole congregation with no one feeling that they were the loser.

4. Able To Speak Out
   - People on the call committee need to be able to express their thoughts and feelings. They should not be domineering or authoritative persons. Rather, they should be people who have confidence in their thoughts and reflections, and be able to give them voice at the appropriate times.

5. Able to Listen
   - While they need the confidence to speak, they will also need the skill of being a good listener. They will need to listen to one another, and they will need to listen deeply and thoughtfully to a candidate being interviewed.
6. A Person of Conviction with the Ability to Reach Consensus
   The most effective members will be those who have clear convictions and are able to express them, while listening to the thoughts and convictions of other members. They will need to be people who are capable of working together towards consensus, trusting that the Holy Spirit is at work through them. Voting on candidates is discouraged as it tends to cause more division than consensus. Continued conversation will ultimately allow one candidate to “rise to the top” or not.

7. Available
   The time commitment is normally around one year. During that time, there will be regular meetings early in the process and more frequent meetings during the interview time. Call committee members will need to be able to adjust their schedules so that they can attend ALL committee meetings, especially during the interviewing time. Only members present during the interview of all the candidates being considered should participate in the decision making discussion.

8. Balance and Representation
   The committee should reflect the various groups in the congregation, seeking age and gender balance, racial representation, and take into account each person’s length of membership in the congregation to make certain both new and longer time members are included. It is often very helpful to include a youth member (15-20 years old) to serve on the committee, using the same set of expectations for involvement, availability and maturity.

9. Additional “Best Practices”
   - It is rarely helpful to have a staff member serve on a call committee (a bit like hiring one’s own boss, from the corporate perspective). Essential staff members might be incorporated into the interview process as things progress.
   - It is never a good idea for more than one member of a family (no matter how “extended”) to serve on a call committee. That places a disproportionate amount of power in one group.

Installation of Call Committee

To be included in the worship service before the prayers of the people.

Interim Pastor: The following persons, having been chosen/elected to be the Call Committee, are asked to come forward as their names are called:

Interim Pastor: Saint Paul writes: There are different kinds of spiritual gifts, but the same Spirit gives them. There are different ways of serving, but the same Lord is served. There are different abilities to perform service, but the same God gives ability for some particular service to everyone. The Spirit's presence is shown in some way in each person for the good of all.

You have been appointed to a position of leadership and trust in this congregation. You are to seek the will of God and the mind and spirit of the congregation with regard to our pastoral needs.

You will examine the qualifications and interview prospective pastors. Ultimately you will provide a recommendation to the congregation regarding the issuance of a call. In all your deliberations, you are to be examples of faith active in love, seeking to maintain the life, harmony and ministry of this congregation.

On behalf of your sisters and brothers in Christ, I now ask you: Will you accept and faithfully carry out the duties of the Call Committee?

Call Committee: We will and ask God to help and guide us.

The committee faces the congregation, which stands.

Interim Pastor: People of God, I ask you, will you support these, your brothers and sisters in Christ, in their task, and will you undergird their efforts with your prayers?

Congregation: We will.

Interim Pastor: I now declare you installed as the Call Committee of this congregation. God bless you and your work together.

LEADER: Open with Prayer:
(Suggestion: Almighty God, we look to your Word for guidance and hope. Open our hearts and our minds that we may hear your word for us. Guide us through your Word to hear the good news for our lives together through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.)

A. One person reads the lesson:
- In silence write one word or phrase from the lesson that seems significant:
- Each person shares the word or phrase without additional comment.

B. A second person reads the lesson:
- In silence reflect on what this passage is saying to you.
- Each person may share their reflection without additional comment.

C. A third person reads the lesson:
- Each person reflects in one sentence or less what this passage is saying to the Congregation at this time while you are in the Call Process.
- If time allows, a 10-20 minute open discussion may be included at this time.

Closing Prayer:

LEADER: Gracious God, we are your servants in need of your love.

The leader then offers a prayer for the person to their right. That person prays for the person on their right, continuing around the room until each person has been included.

Lutheran View of Call and Vocation

O God, you have called your servants to ventures of which we cannot see the ending, by paths yet untrodden, through perils unknown. Give us faith to go out with good courage, not knowing where we go, but only that your hand is leading us and your love supporting us; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Evangelical Lutheran Worship

We believe it is our Savior Jesus Christ, through the power of the Holy Spirit, who guides the call process. The calling of a pastor represents a valuable partnership between God, the calling congregation, and the Sierra Pacific Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. An ideal call process builds on trust, openness, and good communication. When the call process results in a good match between pastor and congregation, the total mission of the church is furthered.

Luther Says...

“... God instituted the office of the ministry, that is, provided the Gospel and the sacraments. Through these God gives the Holy Spirit, who works faith, when and where God pleases, and those who hear the Gospel. Nobody should publicly teach or preach or administer the sacraments in the church without a regular call. All Christians are called to the ministry of serving God and neighbor, but for the sake of good order in the church certain Christians are specially called to the ordained ministry of Word and Sacrament.”

The Call to Ordained Ministry

It is through the church that God calls certain Christians to ordained ministry. Once that call is discerned, the candidate devotes years to study, training, and preparation under the guidance of the whole church through the bishop and the candidacy committee. Not only does the local congregation participate in the call process, but so does the whole church through the Office of the Bishop.

Discerning the Call of Your Specific Ministry

During the time of transition between pastors, a congregation is invited to engage in a spiritual discernment process to discover its call—what God wants the church to be and do in the next phase of its ministry.

Without knowing where God is leading your congregation, a congregation can not know what skills, direction, and priorities it needs in their pastor. Pastors are not called to provide the vision for congregations; pastors are called to help congregations move toward the vision they have for where God is taking them.

The interim time is a period for your congregation to intentionally engage in a process that involves Bible study, prayer, and an honest and thoughtful look at your congregation and community, as a way to discern the ministry direction where God is leading you. Only after your congregation discerns its ministry direction can the call committee begin to discern what type of pastor to call to serve them.
Once this becomes clear, the call committee, in consultation with Office of the Bishop, begins the discernment process of discovering who God is calling to be the pastor in this next chapter of your congregation’s life and ministry. The discernment process is an exciting journey that will take you through specific steps but moves according to the Spirit's timing. Faithful attentiveness to and trust in the guidance of God's spirit, will help to make your journey rich and fruitful.

The Partnership Between the Whole Church and the Local Church
The local congregation is fully the church, but the local congregation is not all the church there is. The local congregation calls a person to be its pastor, but the whole church everywhere has a stake in who is called and how the call process is handled.

The call committee, the congregation council, and the entire congregation all participate fully in the process. But so does the Office of the Bishop, who represents both the interest and the commitment of the whole church in seeing that the pastor called is suited to ministry under the call that is extended.

The Office of the Bishop has deep concern for the well being of the congregation's life and ministry, having reviewed its profile carefully. The Office of the Bishop also has deep concern about the person and gifts of the prospective pastor. In the call process the Office of the Bishop, the congregation, and the prospective pastor work together with the guidance of the Holy Spirit to bring about a new partnership that is faithful to the Gospel, empowers the local congregation in its ministry, and strengthens the whole church as people of God.

The Call Process is Unique
On the basis of our Lutheran theology, a pastor is called to serve a congregation. The pastoral call process is not simply hiring a new employee for the church as would be done in a secular workplace. It is participating in God's own choice for the church by opening yourselves to the work of the Holy Spirit who will guide, nudge, empower, inspire, comfort and inform you in your journey toward finding new pastoral leadership.

Called, Not Placed
Unlike some other denominations, Rostered Leaders in the ELCA are not “placed” or “moved around” by bishops. Neither can congregational councils or senior pastors unilaterally secure rostered people for congregational leadership. All rostered leaders must be called by a congregational ballot.

Called, Not Hired
The call process is not the same as the hiring process in other parts of society. The pattern that includes head hunting, résumé shuffling, or personality contests is highly inappropriate in the calling of a pastor. Neither is the call process like a popularity contest in which hosts of candidates present themselves to their best advantage so the call committee can select one as the winner.
The ELCA call process is unique because it is an effort to discern what God wants for this local church and for the whole church, in order that the Gospel may be proclaimed and the sacraments administered in accordance with the Gospel.

The Wrong and Right Questions
Therefore it is not appropriate for a call committee to be guided by questions such as: “Will the congregation like this pastor?” “Will it approve of the call committee’s choice of candidates?” “Will people feel good having this pastor around on Sunday morning?” “Will this person do for now until a better pastor comes along?” “How will this person look to the rest of the community?”

The foremost question for the call committee always should be “Is this person God intends this congregation to have as its pastor?” Human preferences and personalities should never come before the mission to which God calls the church. That is why every meeting of the call committee will include prayer for the guidance of the Holy Spirit in the work that is being done.

This means that candidates for the call will not be submitted — and should not be evaluated — on the basis of age, gender, race, physical limitations, or any other “human distinctions.” It is about the spiritual gifts needed for leading and facilitating ministry in a particular setting; nothing more, and nothing less.

The Significance of Service on a Call Committee
Many people report that serving on a call committee turned out to be one of the most important things they ever did as members of a congregation. It allowed them to experience firsthand how the Holy Spirit works through committed Christians to help the church be faithful to its calling. It gave them an opportunity to see how the local congregation is vitally connected to the whole church. And it let them participate in opening a new chapter in the life and ministry of their congregation as part of the history long, worldwide Church of Jesus Christ.

Expectations
It is therefore important to be clear about expectations. What do you and this congregation expect of your pastor in:
- Worship
- Learning, Teaching
- Stewardship leadership
- Fellowship leadership
- Witness, Evangelism, Outreach
- Pastoral Care
- Communication
- Administration
- Ecumenical leadership
- Service in the Sierra Pacific Synod/Wider Church
- Service Projects / Social Justice
- Other …
Conversely, since congregational ministry is always a mutual ministry between the called and the congregation, what can or should your pastor expect of you in:

- Support of family and time for family life, or personal time / time with friends if single
- Compensation package
- Continuing education opportunities
- Opportunities to serve and lead at the synodical and churchwide levels
- Support through your prayers
- Honor and respect him/her as a leader in the Church
- Other...

Doing the “Rite Thing”

It’s often helpful to listen carefully to the words that are spoken during the Rite of Installation. A pastor is asked:

- “Will you discharge your duties in harmony with the constitutions of the church” (See Chapter 7.31.11 & 7.31.12 of ELCA Constitution; Chapter 14 of the Synod Constitution; and Chapter 9 of the Constitution for Congregations)
- “preach and teach in accordance with the Holy Scriptures and the Confessions of the Lutheran Church”
- “love, serve and pray for God’s people; nourish them with the Word and Holy Sacraments, leading them by your own example in the use of the means of grace, in faithful service and holy living.”
- “give faithful witness in the world, that God’s love may be known in all that you do?”

And the congregation is asked:

- “Will you receive this messenger of Jesus Christ, sent by God to serve God’s people with the Gospel of hope and salvation? Will you regard him/her as a servant of Christ and a steward of the mysteries of God?”
- “Will you pray for them, help and honor them for their work’s sake and in all things strive to live together in peace and unity of Christ?”

Other “Right Now” Expectations

1. What are your expectations of the Call Process itself?
   a. Do you clearly understand the process?
   b. Do you understand the general time line for a “normal” process, and that this process ought neither be protracted nor rushed?
   c. Do you understand how calling your pastor (or other rostered person) involves the entire synod and the whole church?
2. What are your expectations of this Call Committee?
3. What are your expectations of your Congregation Council?
4. What are your expectations of the Office of the Bishop?
   a. In the ELCA, the Office of the Bishop and the congregation work in mutual consultation regarding the process and in identifying candidates for call. (C 9.01)
   b. The bishop: attests Letters of Call, authorizes and provides for the installation of the pastor, authorizes and provides for the ordination of pastors.
5. What expectations do you have of yourself?
   a. Pray; perhaps more than you have done in a while!
   b. The Holy Spirit “calls, gathers, enlightens, sanctifies and keeps us united in faith.”
      (Luther’s Small Catechism · The Apostle’s Creed, Article 3)

Confidentiality Revisited
Confidentiality cannot be overemphasized in the task of calling a pastor. Mention of specific candidates outside the call committee meetings is inappropriate until the committee is ready with its recommendation to the congregation. It is important to keep all names and both verbal and written information about prospective candidates within the confines of the committee. This means committee members will need to establish ground rules and boundaries, not only with the congregation at large, but also with those in their household or place of work.

Openness
Reporting regularly (weekly) to the congregational council and to the congregation helps keep everyone on the same level of understanding about the process.

Holding Confidence
The Call Committee must keep all verbal and written information about each and every candidate strictly confidential.

The reasons for this are at least twofold.
1. The congregations the candidates are serving are (most likely) unaware that they are interviewing. If a name should get out and back to a candidate's congregation it could severely damage his or her ability to do effective ministry at that site. Never underestimate the “connectedness” · who knows whom · within the Lutheran community!
2. You run the risk of turning the whole congregation into a call committee. People will be second guessing why you decided what about whom; without having all the information · “the rest of the story” · before them. The call committee has been chosen and set aside to do this work on behalf of the congregation. The whole congregation will meet the final candidate when the time is right.

Communication
While confidentiality is important, that does not mean secrecy! Every means ought to be utilized to keep the members of the congregation informed about the call committee's work and progress. There must be as much transparency as possible. Consider using:
1. Newsletter articles explaining the call process to the congregation; with follow-up articles each time another stage in the process is reached.
2. Notes in the Sunday bulletin announcing that the call committee is meeting helps keep the congregation informed of progress.
3. Temple Talks by a member of the call committee to update the congregation on a weekly basis might also be welcomed. (Even if the report is “nothing has changed from last week” · it is very helpful to let people know what is happening in the call process. Also, from one week to the next, you will not be reporting to exactly the same audience).
4. Announcements via email or newsletters to announce open meetings.
5. Have a Website section or page dedicated to the Transition Process.
6. Sunday/Weekday Forums can be used to make sure the congregation understands the call process; and to update them along the way. This format invites interaction and feedback.

As you keep the congregation informed:
- Always familiarize them with the process.
- Summarize specific presentations from the visit from the Office of the Bishop, and others the congregation may engage with during this time.
- Keep them apprized of progress.
- Spell out preferred process for communicating with the members of the call committee.

Do these things and:
- The congregation will clearly understand the process, including the roles of the Office of the Bishop, congregation council, call committee and congregation.
- They will be able to identify and communicate with the members of the call committee.
- People will have a clear understanding of the proper process for communicating with the members of the call committee.

With the exception of confidential materials, there is no such thing as too much information.

A Guide to the Ministry Site Profile (MSP)

Call Process Online: http://www.elca.org/call-process/
Ministry Site Login: https://webapps.elca.org/call/Login/

The Ministry Site Profile (MSP) and other forms that ministry sites will need can be found at Call Process Online (www.ELCA.org/call-process). The information from your submitted MSP is stored in the Mobility Database System which makes it possible for MSPs to be sorted, studied, searched and shared in a quick and efficient manner.

Purpose And Structure
The MSP is designed to stimulate your reflection, to be a summary of the characteristics and ministry of your ministry site, and to serve as the first impression that you wish to give to prospective candidates.

• An Introduction: The MSP is meant to be a conversation starter or introduction to the life and work of your ministry site. It is not intended to be an exhaustive description of every aspect of your ministry. Focus on the key things that describe your ministry site in order to pique the interest of prospective candidates for call. Give special attention to writing your “Summary Description” since what you write will be featured prominently on the Current Openings web page.

• Flexibility: The MSP seeks to encourage your creativity and initiative by offering options and choices for presenting your ministry site. Your responses in the “Narrative” sections should be thoughtful and concise. The “Commentary” section of the MSP invites you find ways to creatively talk about the life and ministry of your site. The optional “Seven Reflections on Ministry and Context” gives you the opportunity to go deeper into some key issues of your context if you wish.

• Corroboration: The MSP requires that a recommendation be submitted by an outside observer. Choose someone who is in a position to know your ministry and send them the form found on Call Process Online. The reference will be asked to identify your ministry site’s characteristics using the same “Ministry Site Characteristics” survey that you filled out on your MSP. This helps to validate the information on the MSP and gives prospective candidates another perspective.

Discernment Process
What is God’s hope and dream for your congregation? In what ways is your congregation strong and unique? Would your neighborhood miss you if you were gone?

One of the final questions on the MSP asks about your Discernment Process. Before starting to work on your MSP, along with the interim pastor, the leaders of the ministry site and call committee should spend time in discernment. Think and pray about your sense of Mission at this time in your history and consider these three things:

• Why do you exist, and for whom? What would someone who observes you from the outside conclude about your sense of purpose and mission?
• What are you clearly good at? What ministry activities bring out the best in you and seem to be valued by others?
• What does your neighborhood really need right now, and how are you helping to meet those needs? An experience of Mission that feels powerful, Spirit-inspired and authentic often happens where these three things converge. That is, Mission is what happens when we are true to our purpose, using our best gifts and responding to the needs that are before us in our community and world. Ministry that only touches on one or two of these things may not be at the core of what your mission is. Thus your prayerful discernment is important, and much of the MSP will give you the opportunity to share what you have discerned.

Steps in Completing the MSP
1. Get Acquainted
   Before launching into the MSP, it would be wise to take a look at samples of the form. Go to Call Process Online (www.ELCA.org/Call-Process/Ministry-Sites) and download a sample of the MSP. You might find it especially helpful to answer the narrative questions while you are offline. This way you can work at your own pace and benefit by the spellcheck feature. Later you can block the text and drop it into the online MSP. Remember keep your answers focused and concise.

   Next, go to Call Process Online and become familiar with the information found on the web pages, especially the Ministry Sites page (www.ELCA.org/Call-Process/Ministry-Sites). When you feel you are ready, click on the link to the “Ministry Site Profile” in order to create your account.

2. Create an Account
   To create an account, click on “Ministry Site Profile” (https://webapps.elca.org/call/Login) and then click on the link for a New User. You will be asked to supply an email address and a password for your account. Write your password down and store it safely.
   • Next you will be asked to enter information for your account profile. If your site is a congregation, choose “Congregation” and give your ELCA congregational ID number. If your site is a congregation and a part of a cooperative of congregations, choose “Multiple Point Parish”. If your site is a church-related organization, choose that option. Whatever you enter on your Profile page will automatically show on the MSP form that you open. Click “Update” and then “Create a New MSP”.
   • You can return at any time to the “Account Profile” screen to update your Profile. Whatever you enter will be reflected in your MSP. Remember to click “Update”.
   • Now that you have an account, you will find that the next time you login you will have the option to update your Profile or go to “MSP Status” where you can review your work, update an existing MSP, or manage other aspects of your account.

3. Filling out and Submitting the MSP  The MSP is completed on the web; it does not require that you download software in order to work on the form.
   • SAVE YOUR WORK frequently as you proceed using the “Save and Continue” button on the bottom of each page. If your online session times out, you will lose the work you have done on it since you last saved your work.
   • REQUIRED FIELDS (marked with *) must be filled in before proceeding.
   • TWO USERS: Congregations must fill out the entire MSP. With the concurrence of the synod bishop, church-related organizations may fill out only Parts I, III, IV.
• CALL PROCESS CONTACT PERSON: At the end of the MSP you will be asked to insert the name of your “Call Process Contact Person”. This should be the staff member from the Office of the Bishop that is working with your congregation in the call process.
• FINAL REVIEW: When you get to the final page of the MSP you will be prompted to download a PDF copy of the MSP so you can review it one last time.
• CORRECTIONS: You can reopen your MSP to make any last corrections.
• SUBMIT: When you are really sure your MSP is ready, click on “Submit” on the final page of your MSP. Both you and your synod office will receive an email confirming that the MSP has been received.
• ACTIVATION: The MSP does not become active in the Mobility Database System until the Office of the Bishop approves it,
• MSP STATUS: You can, as needed, monitor your MSP forms by logging into Call Process Online. Click on the tab marked “MSP Status”. Here you can choose to review your MSP, update your MSP, look at the status of your MSP, or request the supporting forms
• UPDATE: If you edit and resubmit a MSP that is already active in the system, your new MSP will require re-approval by the office of the bishop.
• ARCHIVING: Your approved MSP will remain active until you request that it be archived, or the bishop determines that it must be archived, or a year has elapsed since it was first submitted.
• MULTIPLE POINT PARISHES are encouraged to collectively complete one MSP. The “Commentary” section of the MSP can be used to describe any unique features of each of the cooperating congregations. If it is necessary for each congregation to fill out its own MSP, then the “Commentary” section should contain the congregations’ collective description of how the parish cooperative functions.
• MORE THAN ONE OPENING: If your ministry site has more than one opening to be filled by a rostered leader, you may edit your existing MSP to reflect this second position and then resubmit it. If you need a blank MSP in order to describe this second position, you can download a blank form on your “MSP Status” page. Your MSP Status page will have a snapshot for each of the MSPs you have submitted.

Some Helpful Tips
• BE CREATIVE: The MSP gives you the freedom to add comments, share ideas and passions, and present your ministry site's gifts. Make your MSP distinctive.
• BE THOUGHTFUL: The narrative questions are the most important. It is more important to write concisely and insightfully than to just write many words.
• BE HONEST: It never pays to represent your ministry site in a way that will not prove to be true over time. You are more likely to match successfully with a rostered leader if both you and they are honest about your respective ministry, style and gifts. Romans 12:3 is good advice.
• BE SPECIFIC: Study the list of characteristics and preferences and focus your answers. Avoid being too general in your responses.

• SEEK COUNSEL: Involve as many people as possible at your ministry site in thinking and writing about the questions of Identity/Purpose, Gifts/Resources, and Context/Needs. Begin every conversation with Bible study and prayer. Share what you propose to submit with the leadership and membership of the congregation. Listen to the critique that is offered. Have the Council vote to approve the final version of the MSP that will be submitted.

• COOPERATE: Never approach a rostered leader directly about your position. Each synod staff has a shepherding role in call process within their synod that must be respected.

Two Supporting Forms

The various forms that ministry sites use in the Call Process come together to form the Ministry Site Portfolio. The portfolio contains the Ministry Site Profile, the following two supporting forms, and other documents that you may choose to submit to the synod staff person working with you.

Reference Recommendation

Someone from outside your congregation who knows your ministry site well can complete a recommendation form about your characteristics and ministry. Before having a Reference Recommendation form sent to them, you should first secure their willingness to do this. Then return to Call Process Online and login to your MSP Status page. Click on “Request a Reference Recommendation” and enter the person’s name and email address. The system will send the person a request and the login information to access the form. After the person has submitted the form, you and the reference will receive an acknowledgement by email. The form automatically attaches to your MSP. The form is considered confidential. If you would like to review it, please ask your reference for a copy.

Seven Reflections on Ministry and Context

You may choose to enhance your MSP by providing additional information on the Seven Reflections form. The form is listed immediately alongside the Reference form (see above). Once submitted it automatically attaches to your MSP.

Release of Candidate:
Sample letter to candidates not recommended for call

Dear Pastor Smith,

On behalf of the Call Committee of ____________ Lutheran Church, I would like to thank you for your willingness to be considered as a candidate for the position of (Senior) (Associate) Pastor. We were impressed by your fine record and sample sermon.

(You may wish to go into more detail of strengths and areas of concern)

At this time, we have chosen another candidate to recommend to our congregation. The choice was difficult because of the quality of the candidates recommended to us. We wish you blessings upon your continued ministry.

Sincerely,
Jane Doe, Chair
Call Committee
